PRESENTS

The Wildcat
Pac

Big plans are in store for the 1982-83 Senior class. We have taken each step of school in stride and with pride. Each year has passed by so suddenly, we scarcely had time to enjoy it. But knowing how rapidly time slips away, we have realized that life will not stand still and we intend to live each day to the fullest.

Our school years have taught us how to read and write and other things that books cannot deliver. Every day teaches us to work in harmony, becoming successful at making friends, making money and making good times from which we all can benefit.

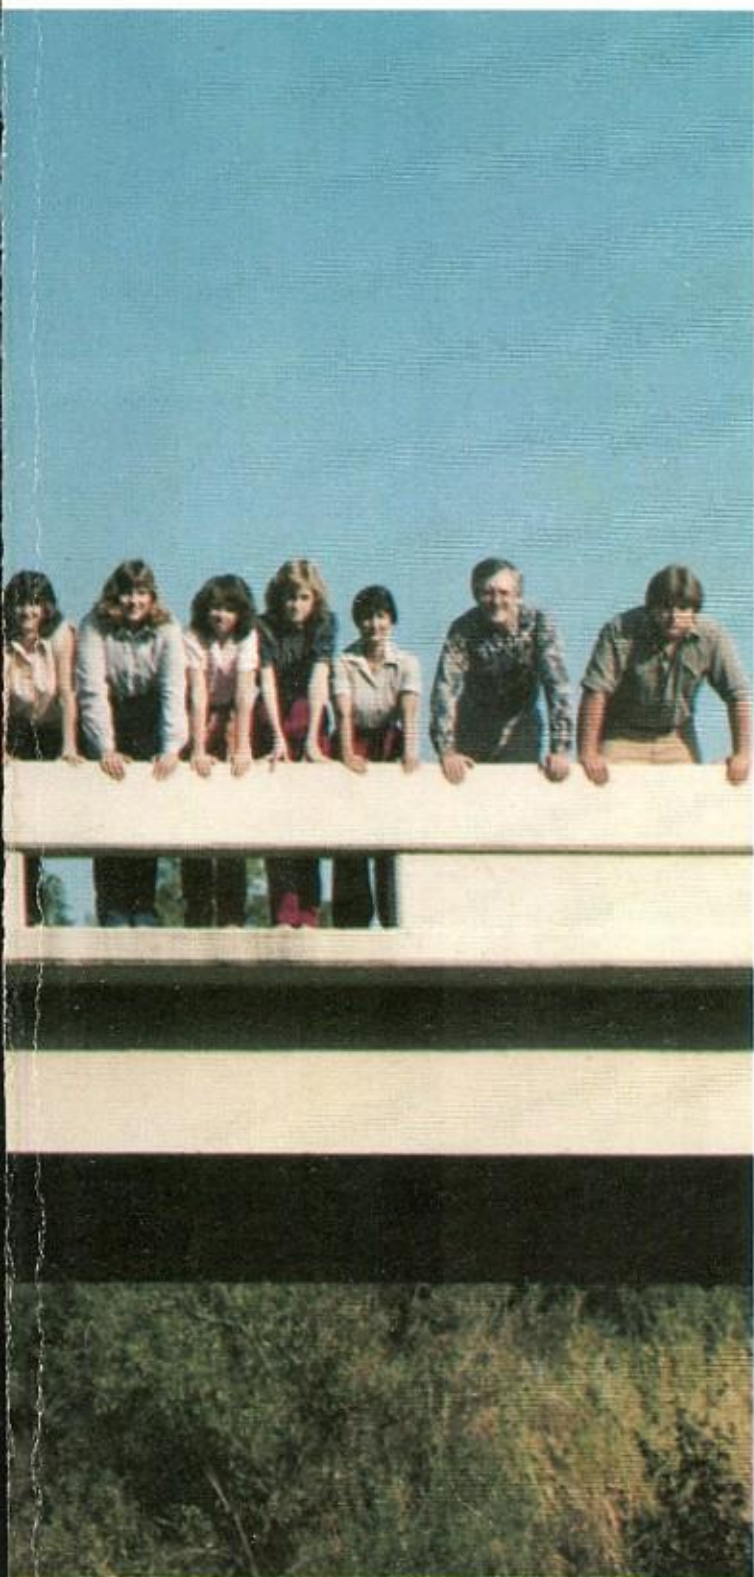

We have planned as a class to enjoy our last year in high school, but we also have plans as individuals and we wish for all the best of luck!

"Pac Man"

To some "Pac Man" is just a game played for fun; to others, it is symbolic of successfully reaching a goal.

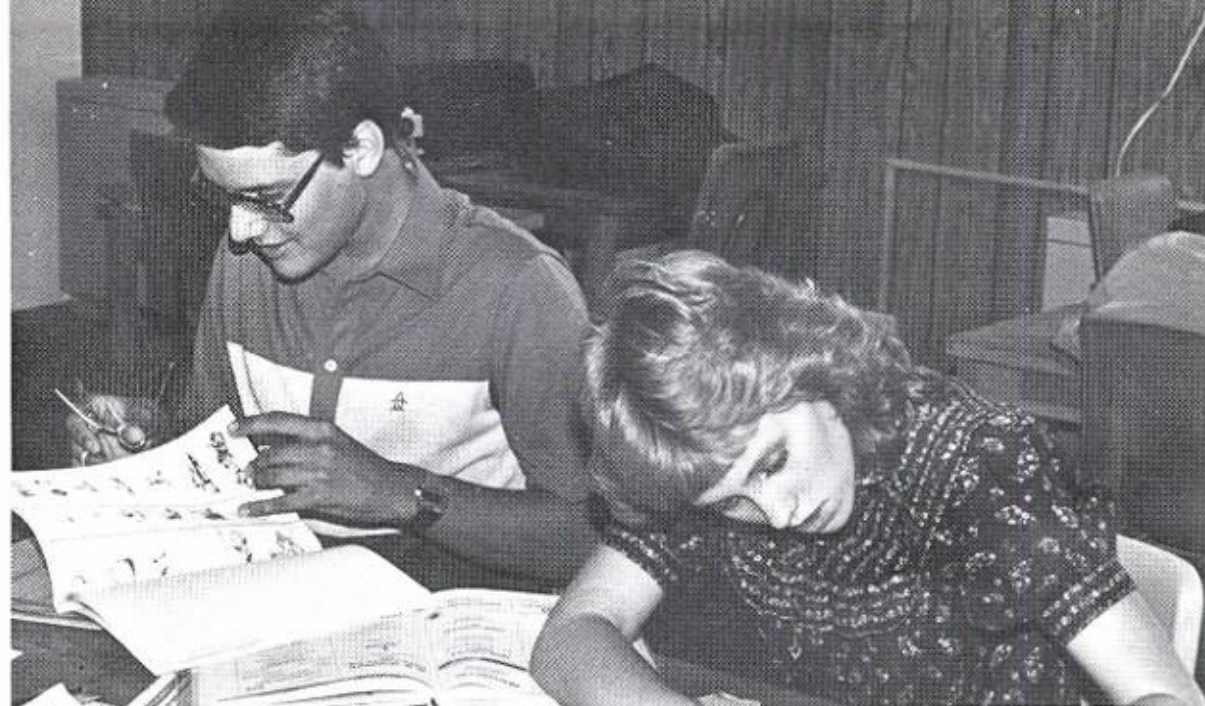

The Pac Man game represents the struggles of the students at Water Valley School. Pac Man is a symbol of different students in search of one unifying goal; to be successful.

Each student is striving for the victory that waits at the games end. Sometimes students are defeated by obstacles that stand in their way, but invariably they pick themselves up, start the game over and eventually win.

Whether the obstacle is winning state in football, passing English IV or merely surviving the first day of school, the students at Water Valley are struggling to realize the final goal, SUCCESS!

This yearbook hopes to show the "Pac Man" goal of success embodied in Water Valley School.

*Terry: you are

The annual staff put much thought in the decision of who this memorable book should be dedicated to. We arrived at the honorable decision that Joveta Hayes is a very deserving person and this book is dedicated to her. Mrs. Hayes was blessed with a wonderful personality and every person that works with or around her is grateful for her patience and understanding.

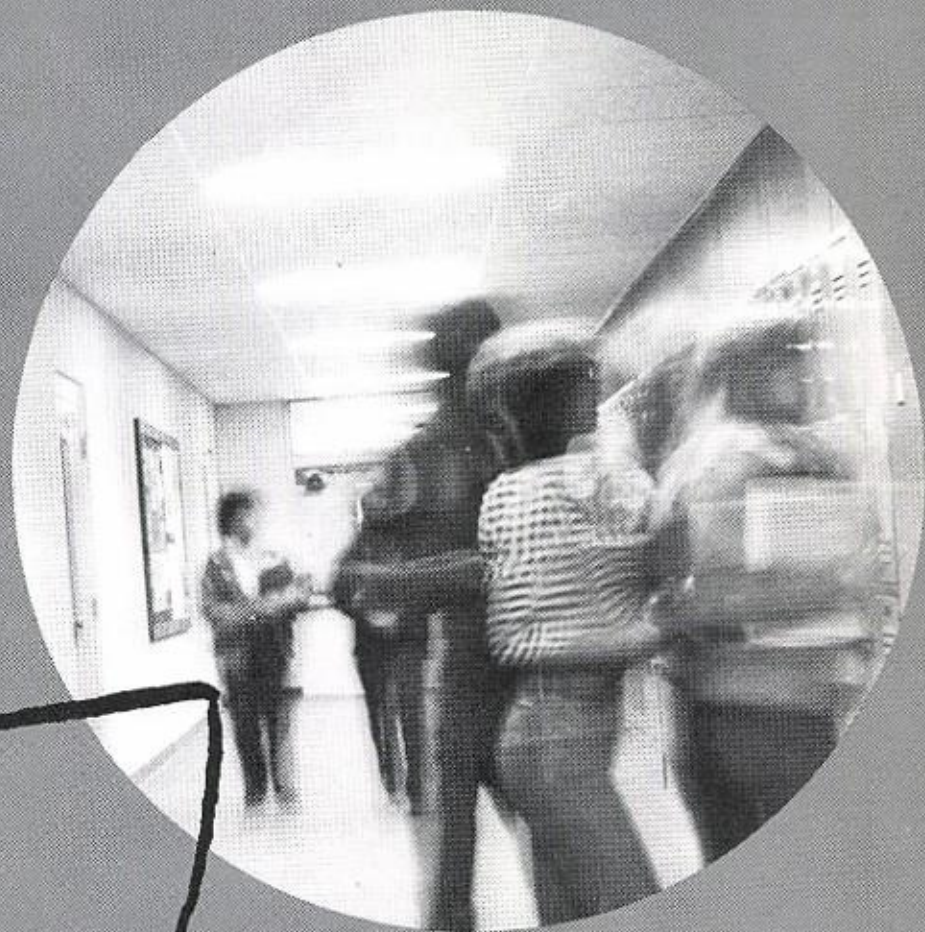

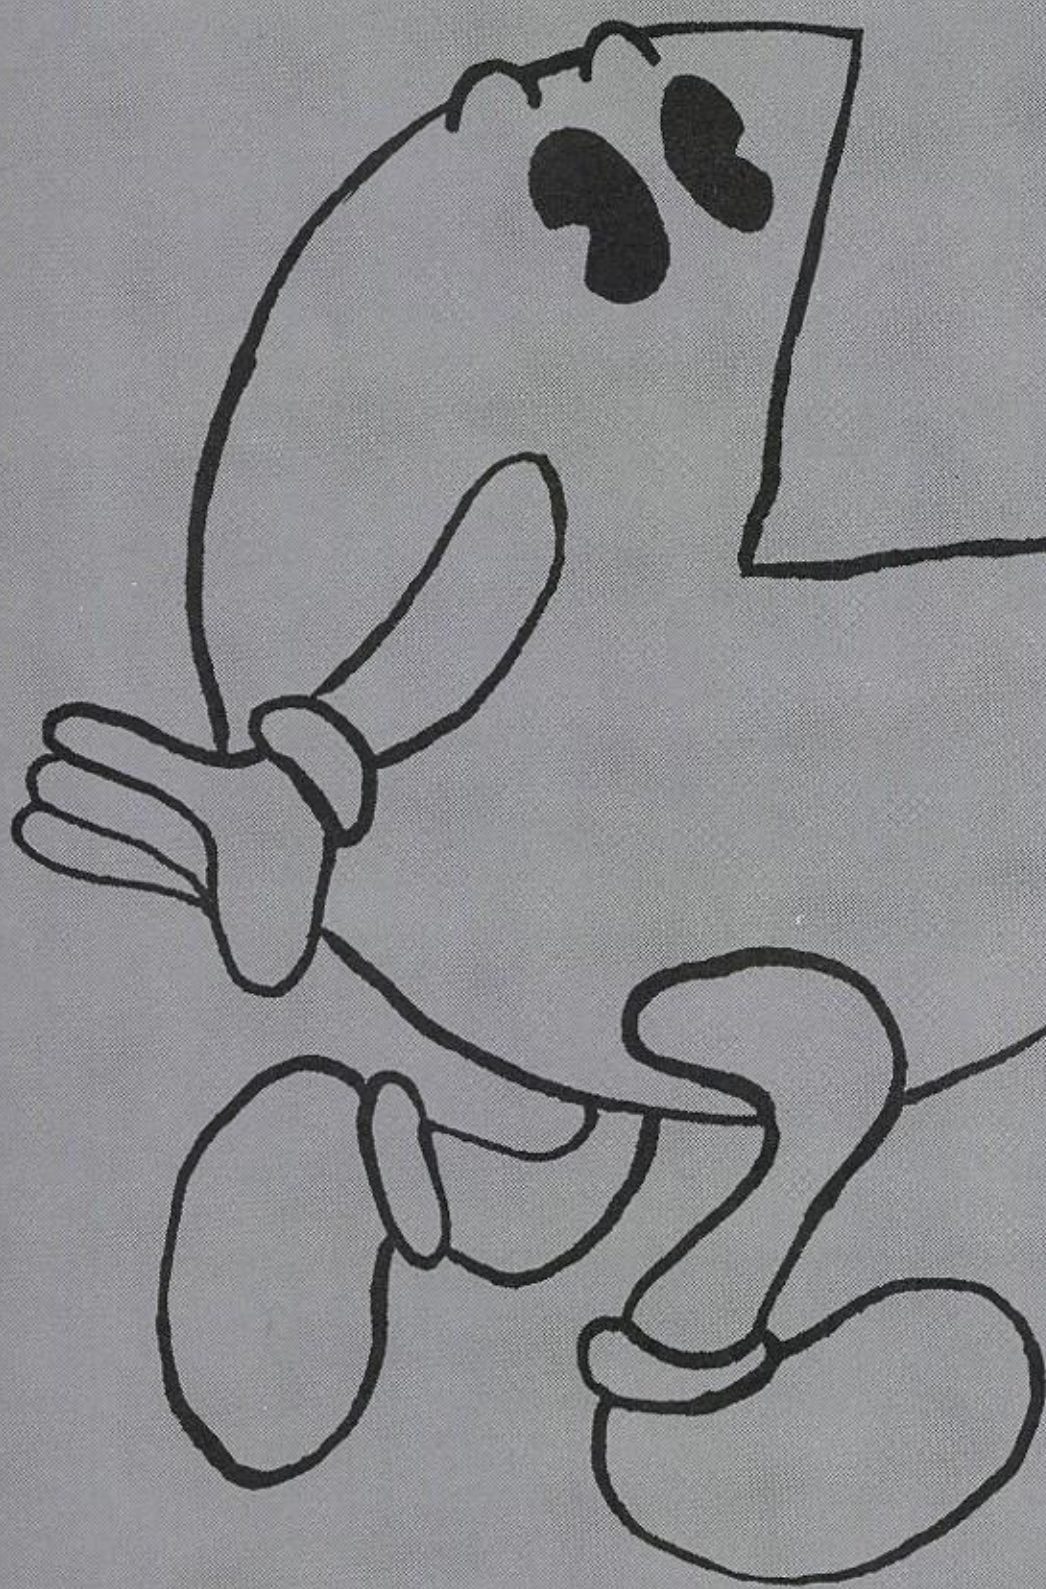

Mrs. Hayes always has an office full of kids. She is the one who issues you a tardy slip when you're late to school. She can suddenly transform into the school nurse when skinned knees need attending. She is the friendly voice you hear over the intercom announcing the location of the bookmobile. She is always there when you need her and everyone appreciates her 100%.

PEOPLE

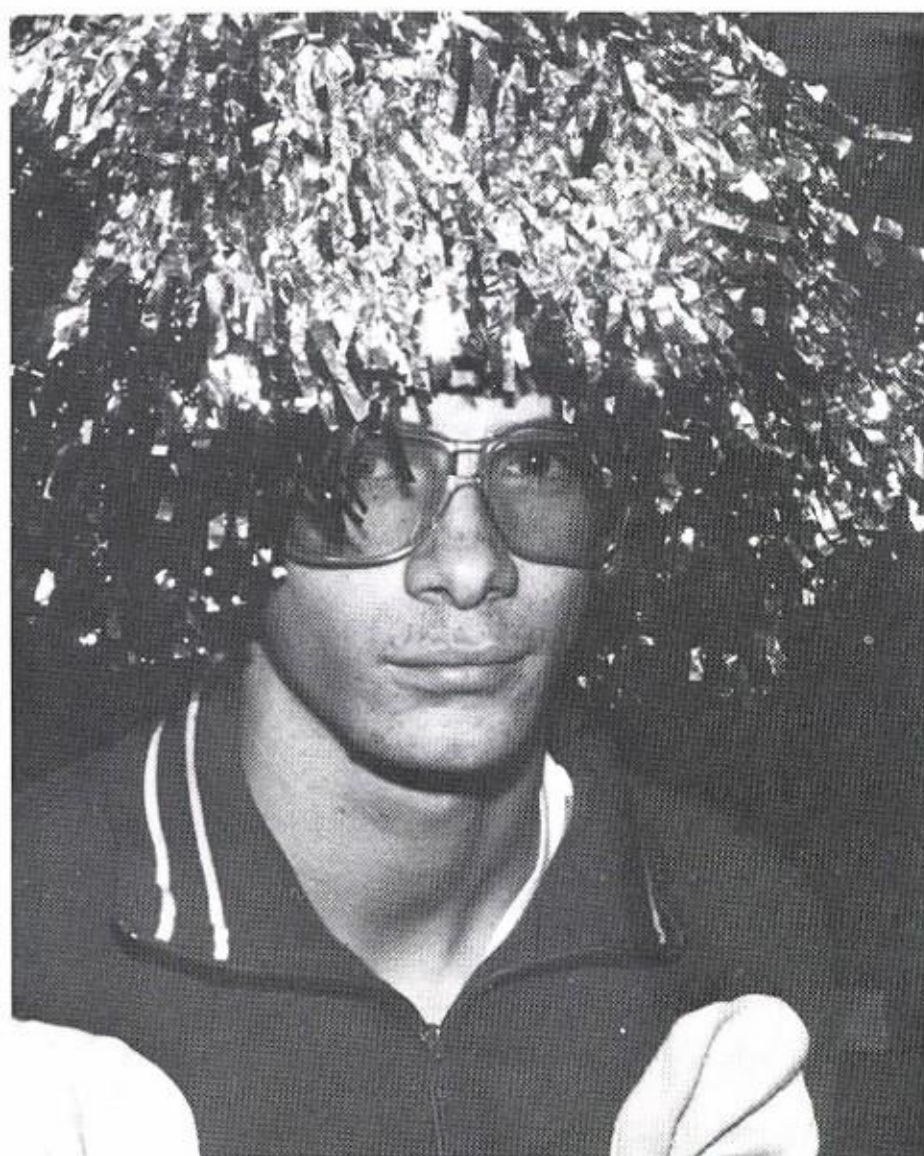

Blowing bubbles is a great pastime. This young man shows a perfect example of enjoying his bubble gum to the extent. Lots of smiles and friendly gestures is a great way to survive drill team practice. Lori Millican and Renee Brown do their best to keep the right beat.

1. There is nothing like wearing a black hat to increase your concentration in the game of pool. Bob Doty is well-suited for his game.
2. There are those people who engage in expressing their inward feelings. Pam Gonzales and Frankie Juarez must have felt terribly disturbed.
3. In his attempt to be charming, Gerald Stover appears fascinating . . . or maybe interesting . . . but charming?
4. Steve Puckett forgot his manners when the camera came his way.

1. Short people have lots of reasons to live. Gaynell Glass and Becky Hargraves discover what it is like for short people in this world as they temporarily portrayed, "The Short People."
2. Coach Jerry Mounts approved the previous football play by giving his "thumb of approval."
3. James Schultz exhibits his salesmanship. He is a strong supporter of the Wildcats and his effort of selling caps for the annual staff earned himself a free cap.
4. The older generation say our high school years are the best times of our lives. Carla Horn and Sandra Cervantez put truth in the customary phrase.

ADMINISTRATION

1. Alton Cavaness and Leslie Turner, members of the School Board.
2. Sidney Hale and Robert Sanders, members of the School Board.
3. Mr. Kromer, Superintendent.
4. Barney Sisco, Secretary of the School Board and Charlie Jennings, President of the School Board.
5. Mrs. McSpadden, Secretary.

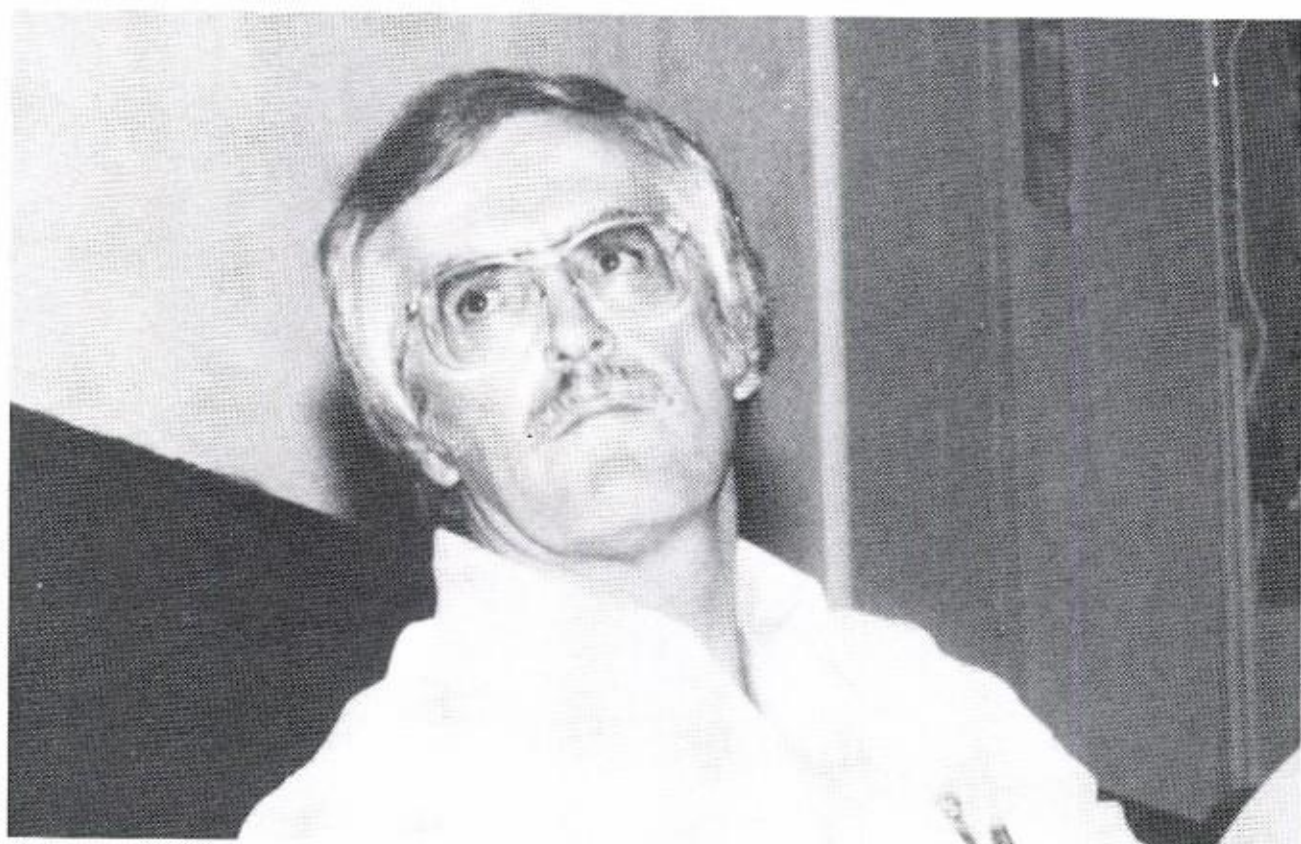

"My goals this year are to develop better school pride because of the new building, more academic concern of the students, and more cooperative spirit among the students and faculty. I believe that the student body has improved over the past few years, as shown by their attitude, academic concern, and discipline."

Miss Fincher

"This year has really been a great year. The new school facilities are very nice and have helped the students in achieving a better education. Student-teacher relationships are improving each year. Learning is becoming a goal which can be reached at Water Valley High School."

Coach Mounts

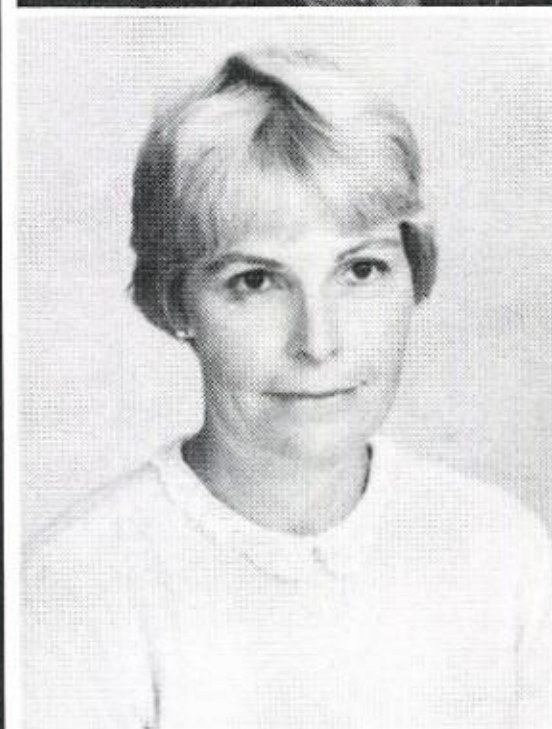

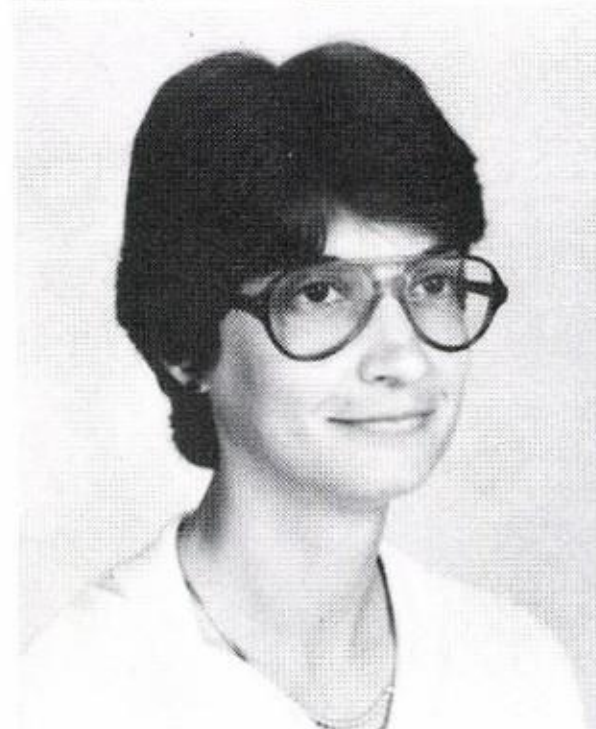

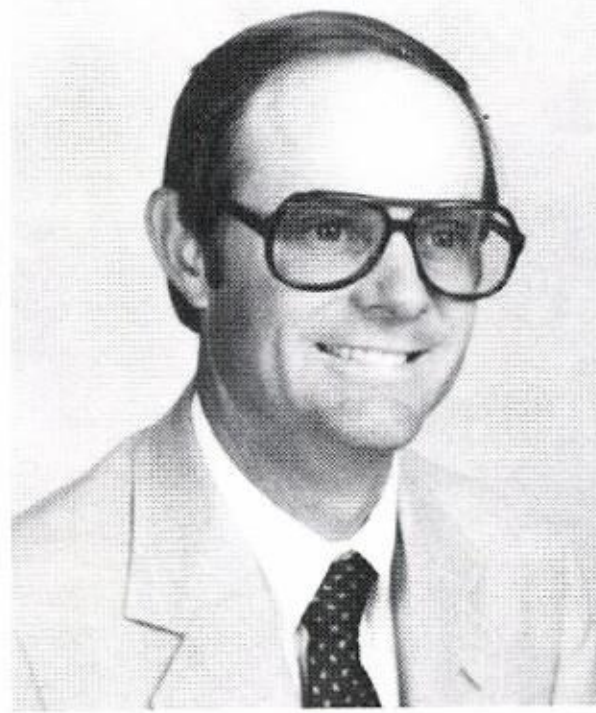

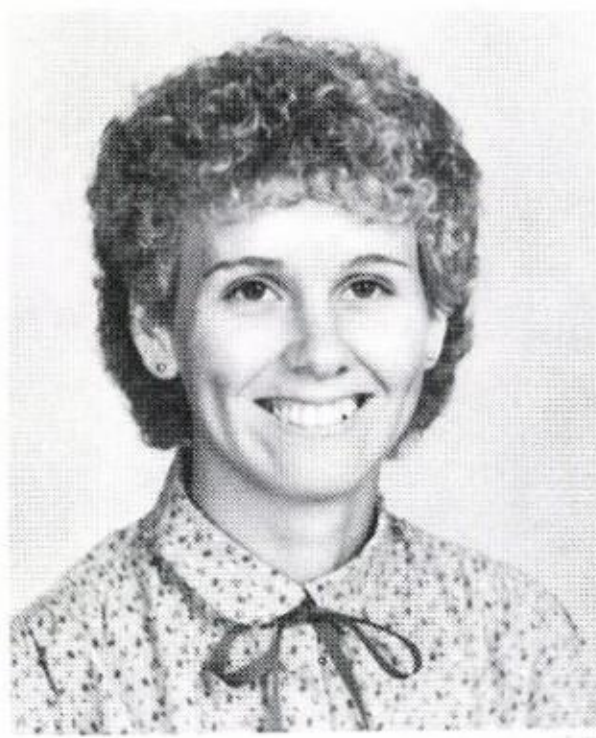

"My job here at WVHS is very rewarding. It is actually a combination of jobs — making it impossible to become bored. It is a privilege and a pleasure to work with a principal who believes in organization, fairness and the welfare of teachers and students. The teachers are dedicated, energetic and progressive. Above all, I enjoy the 'kids' — the reason we are all here!!!

Coaching the Wildcat Team is: Bob Loy, Kevin Sides, and Head Coach Sandy McSpadden.

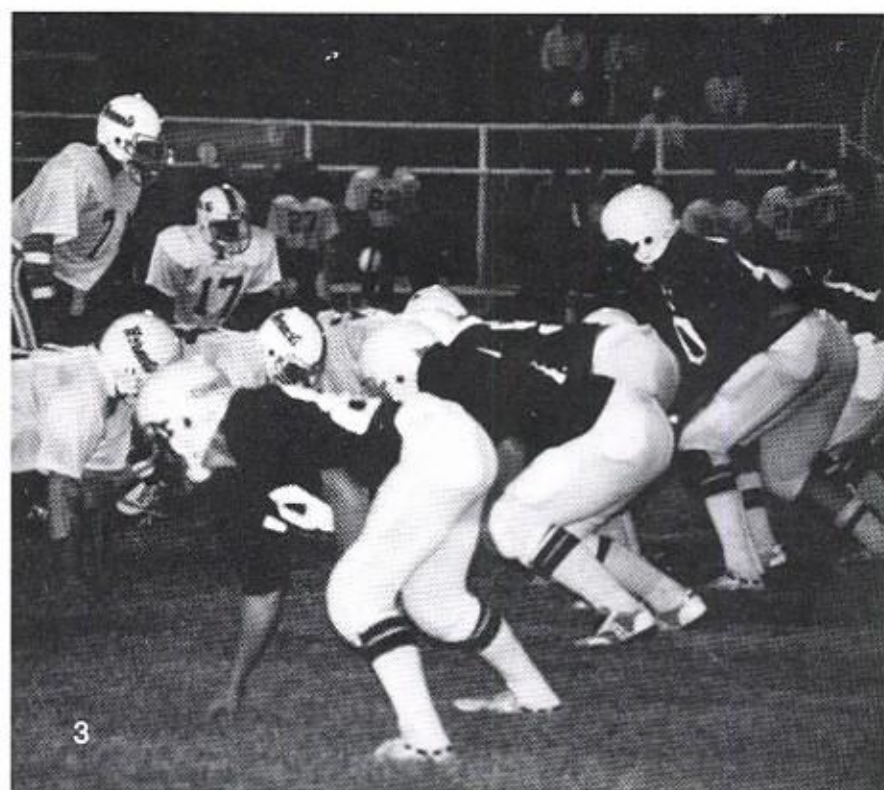

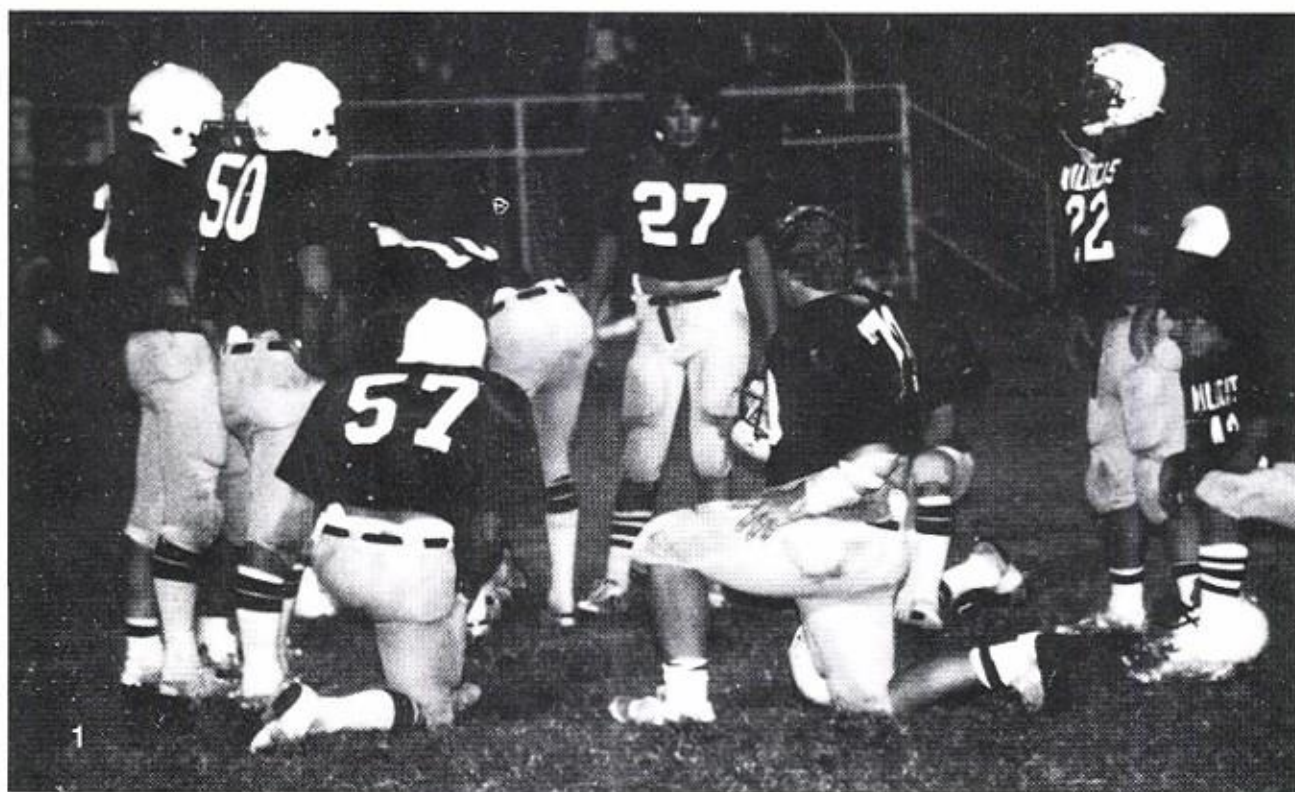

"When we reflect back on the season, it was a great feeling to be a part of a group that made history . . . winning its first eleven-man football game. It was a greater feeling winning two more games and being competitive in others. We knew our men were going to be good because of their attitude during our off-season program. They realized the desire to win was useless without the desire to prepare. These Water Valley men had a lot of desire, dedication, discipline and pride — even though they only had sophomore experience in eleven-man football. They executed like veterans! It was an experience we worked so hard for, and one we will never forget."

Sandy McSpadden

1. Every team has a crazy side with lots of smiles and silly activities. The football team took time out of their hustle and bustle schedule to sit back and relax.

2. Bruce Dye handles a downed Hornet as Eric Jackson #38 puts the touch on another enroute to Chris Hoerster #70 near the goal.

3. Freshman, Terry Gauwain moves to bulldog a steer while heading off a stampede in Wildcat territory.

2. Pigskin or hot potato? Water Valley pass rush turns football into problem as quarterback ditches to avoid.

Bob Loy, Jr. High Football Coach

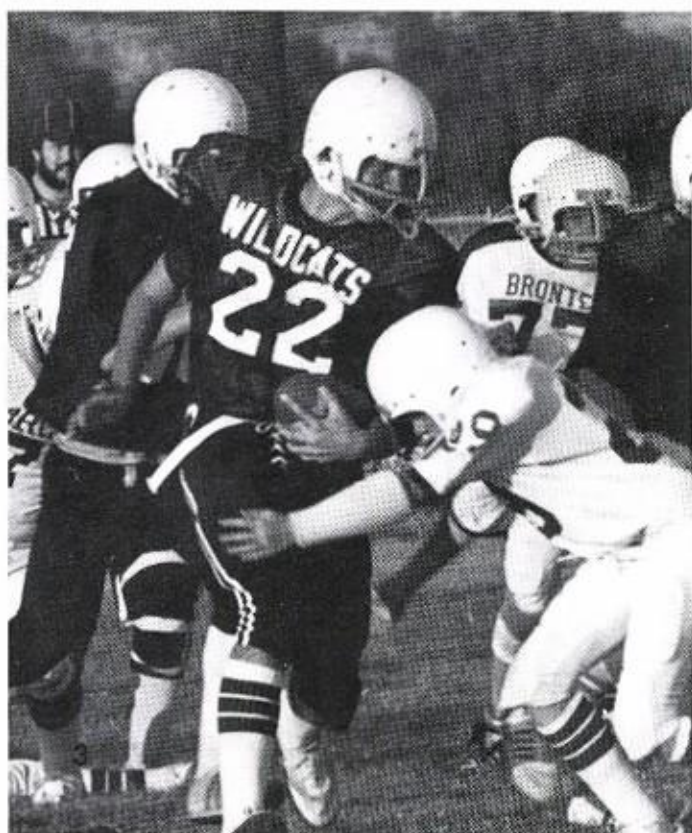

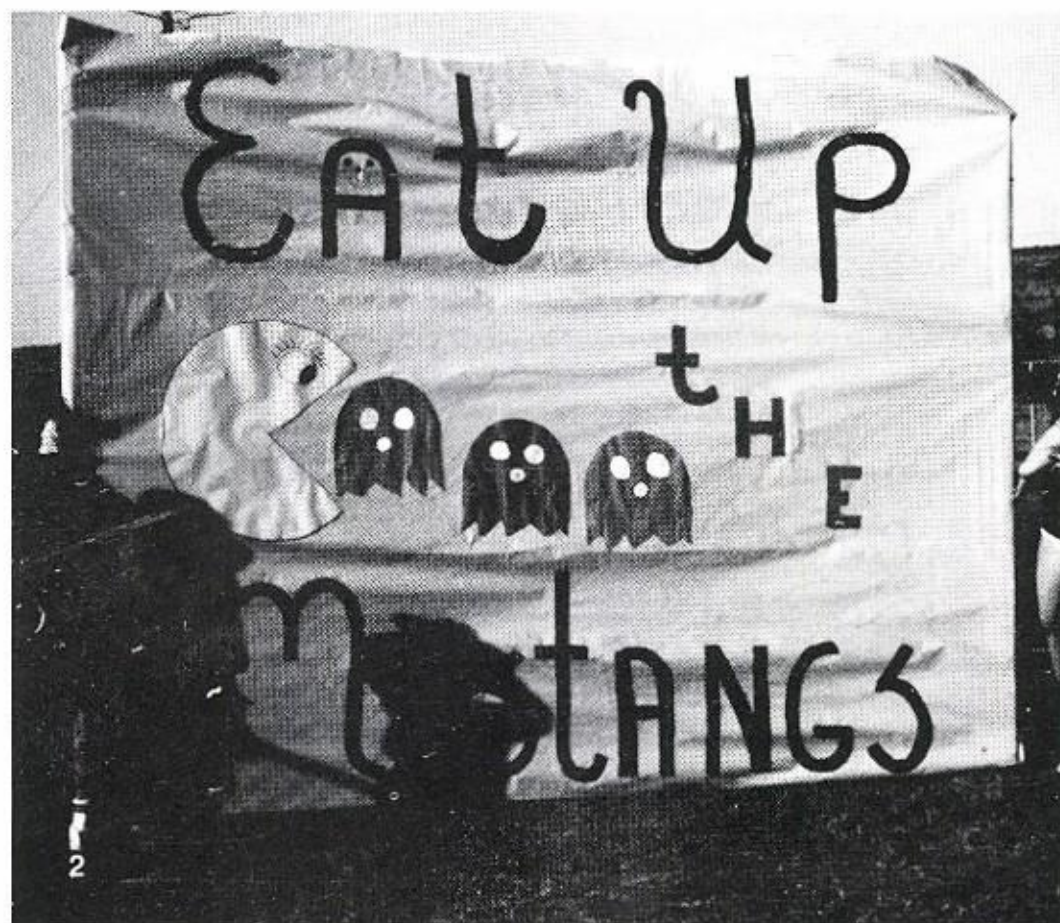

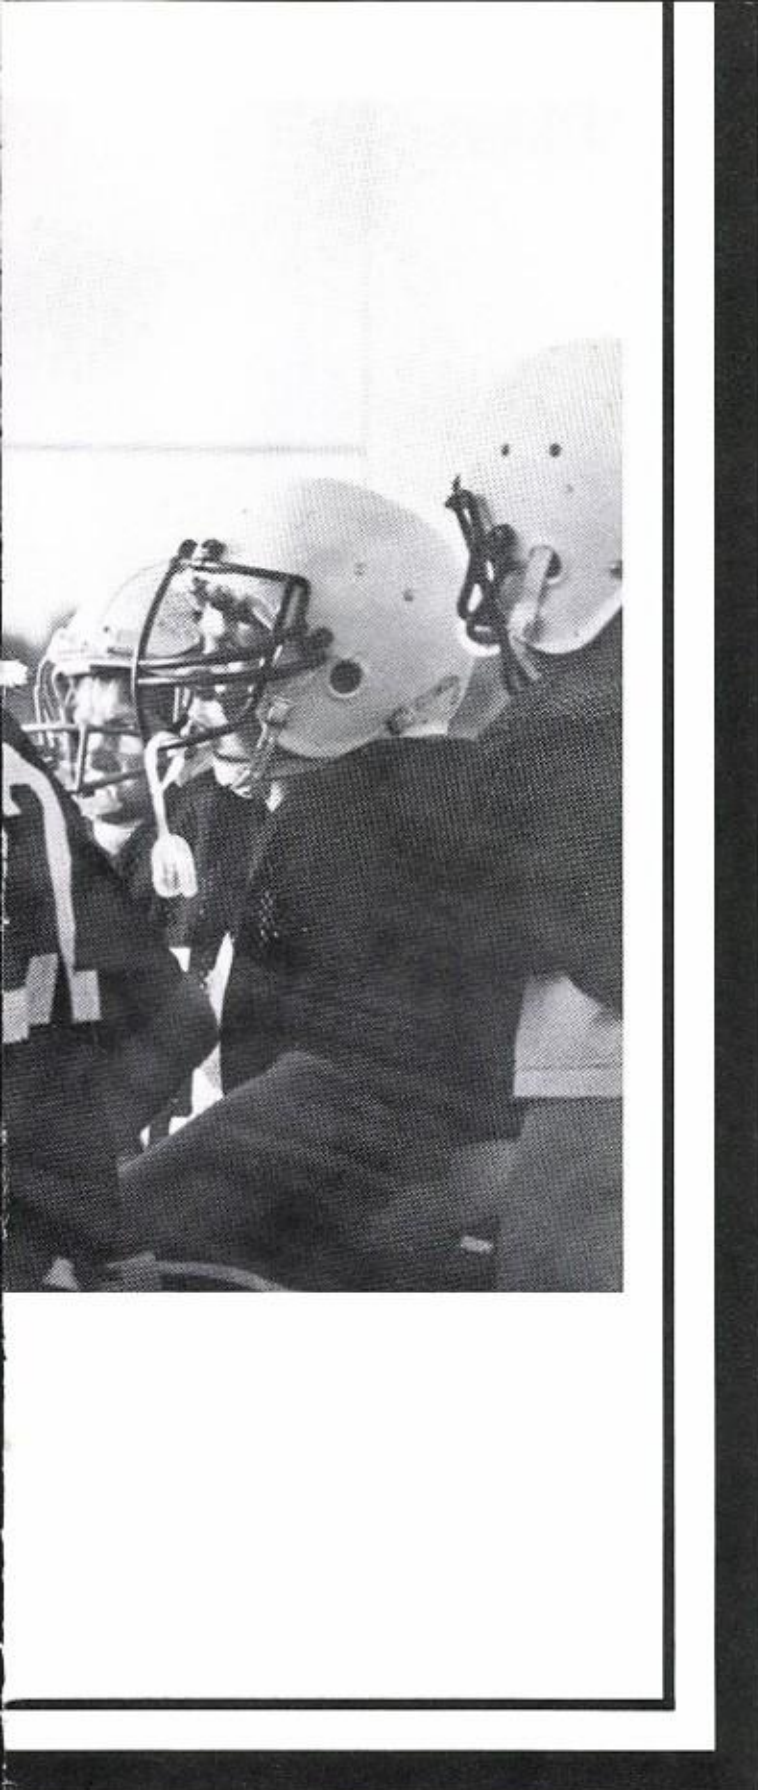

"As I look upon the 1982 Junior High School Football Season, I can see many accomplishments. The team was a dedicated bunch of boys who practiced diligently for the season. The morale and spirit of the team was always present while they were practicing or playing in a game. The team shared the same pride that was exemplified by the Varsity team. Each game was played with improvement. These young men will be the nucleus of the next championship team at Water Valley."

Coach Bob Loy

'Gaining Confidence'

Coach Mounts, when asked about the volleyball team, replied: "The 1982 Wildcat Volleyball team was outstanding. Led by Co-Captains Gaynell Glass and Becky Hargraves, the Wildcats finished a close second in district play, and then proceeded to win bi-district, area, and the first round of regionals before being stopped by Bronte. This placed them in the top 8 in the state. An assortment of crippling injuries could have side-tracked this team, but didn't, which speaks for their character. It was a privilege to coach them, and I will certainly miss them."

With perfect timing, Becky Hargraves outpushes her opponent.

'A REWARDING SEASON'

Diann Farris felt that the 1982 Volleyball season was very rewarding. "As a senior, it will stand out most in my mind as a season full of hard work and dedication. We all overcame many setbacks that could have been discouraging. After the Regional Tournament we all felt the hard work and dedication was well worth it. I would also like to say, on behalf of the team, a special thanks to Coach Mounts, who had to put up with us through thick and thin and he never gave up on us."

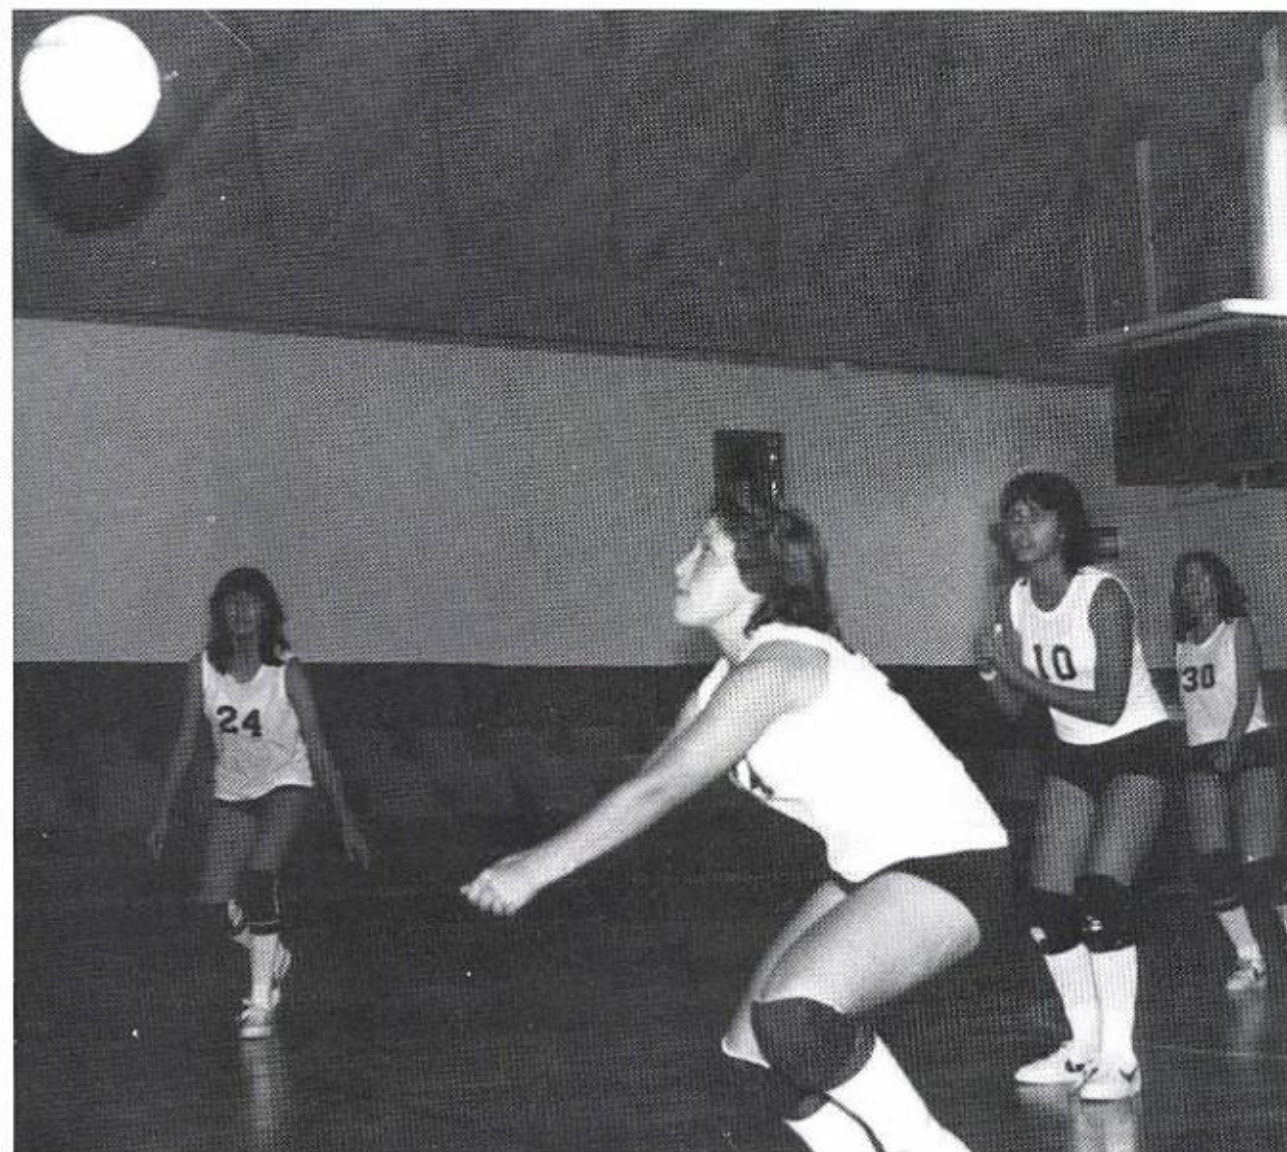

Gaynell Glass exhibits her spiking ability against the Lake View Maidens.

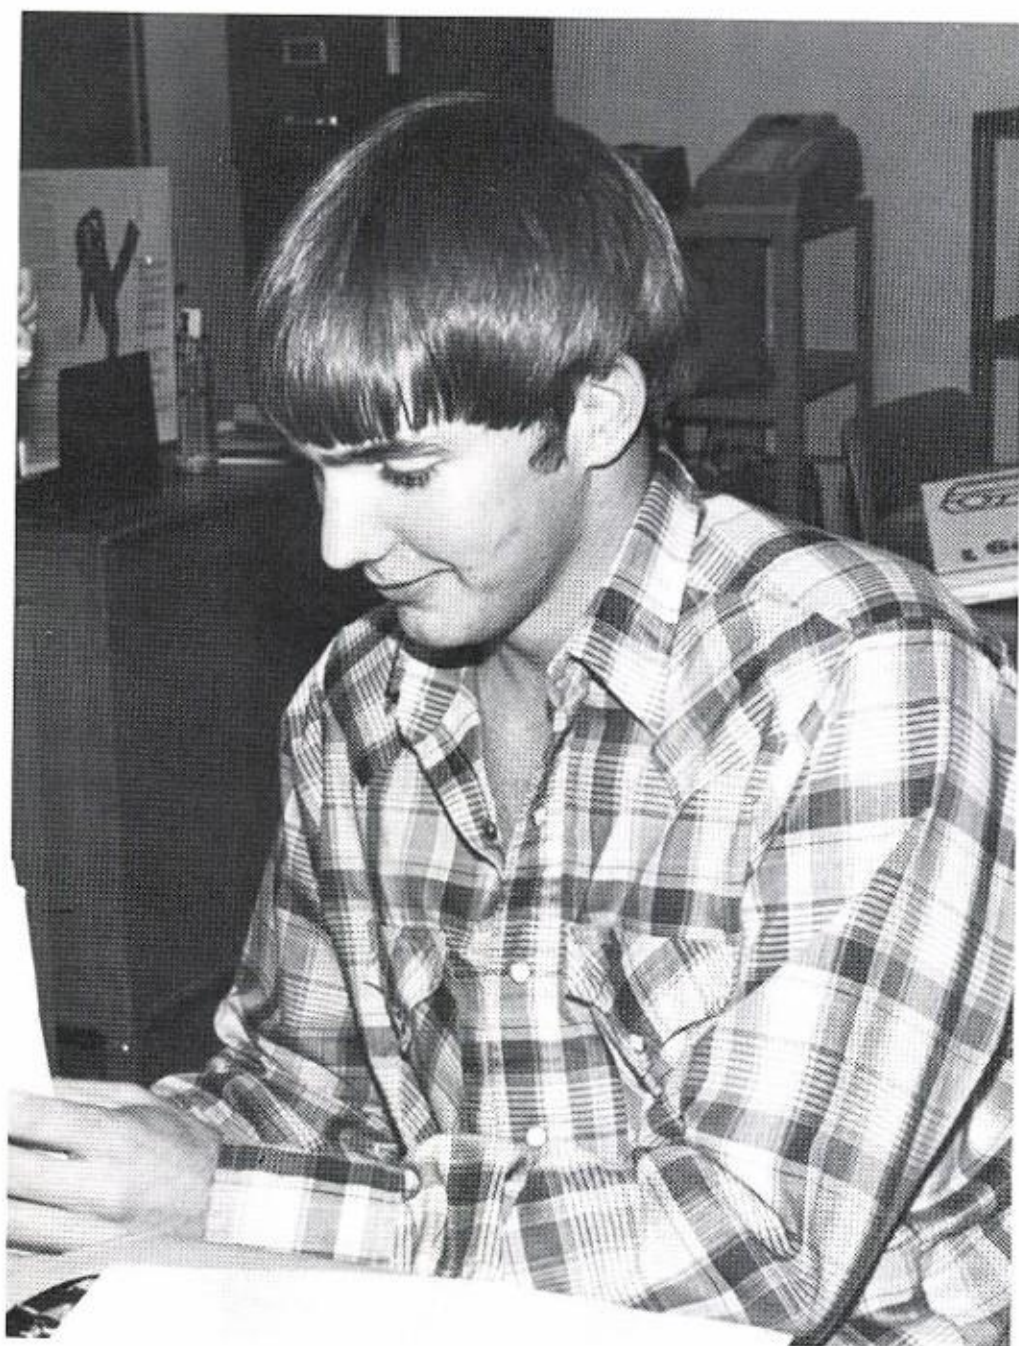

Junior Varsity girls listen attentively as the coach plans strategy for the upcoming game.

Tracy McCoulsky increased her confidence and played with much more stability this year.

Volleyball was a new game for freshman Teresa Charlesworth, but her athletic abilities and awareness became very useful on the court.

Team Assistance

Craig Chambers assumed many responsibilities when he decided to take the position of being the High School girls volleyball manager. The task appeared quite glamorous to the eyes of onlookers who saw Craig being the only boy with all those girls. But behind the scenes there were obligations beyond belief. He took responsibility of camera equipment and filming, hoping that the lighting was sufficient and the distance was accurate. He always seemed to catch all of our mistakes. He made several trips with the Volleyball team, including the long and exciting trip to Stephenville. He was a strong supporter and attributed his time and effort to assist Coach Mounts and the girls.

Experience in the Making

The Junior High Volleyball Team has made tremendous improvement this year. They have worked hard on individual and team skills. Their win over Bronte, and winning consolation at the Miles Tournament were two outstanding team achievements. The girls showed leadership, spirit, and enthusiasm throughout the season.

Lyn Ransom, Chiffona Snead, Lisa Shelton, Janene Schwartz, Lisa Hopson, Lori Millican, Kathy Juarez, Michelle Ayers, Donna McCorkle, Renee Brown, Monica Turner, Wendy McCorkle, Sylvia Trevinio, Marsha Littlefield, Bea Oaks, Coach Brandy Miller.

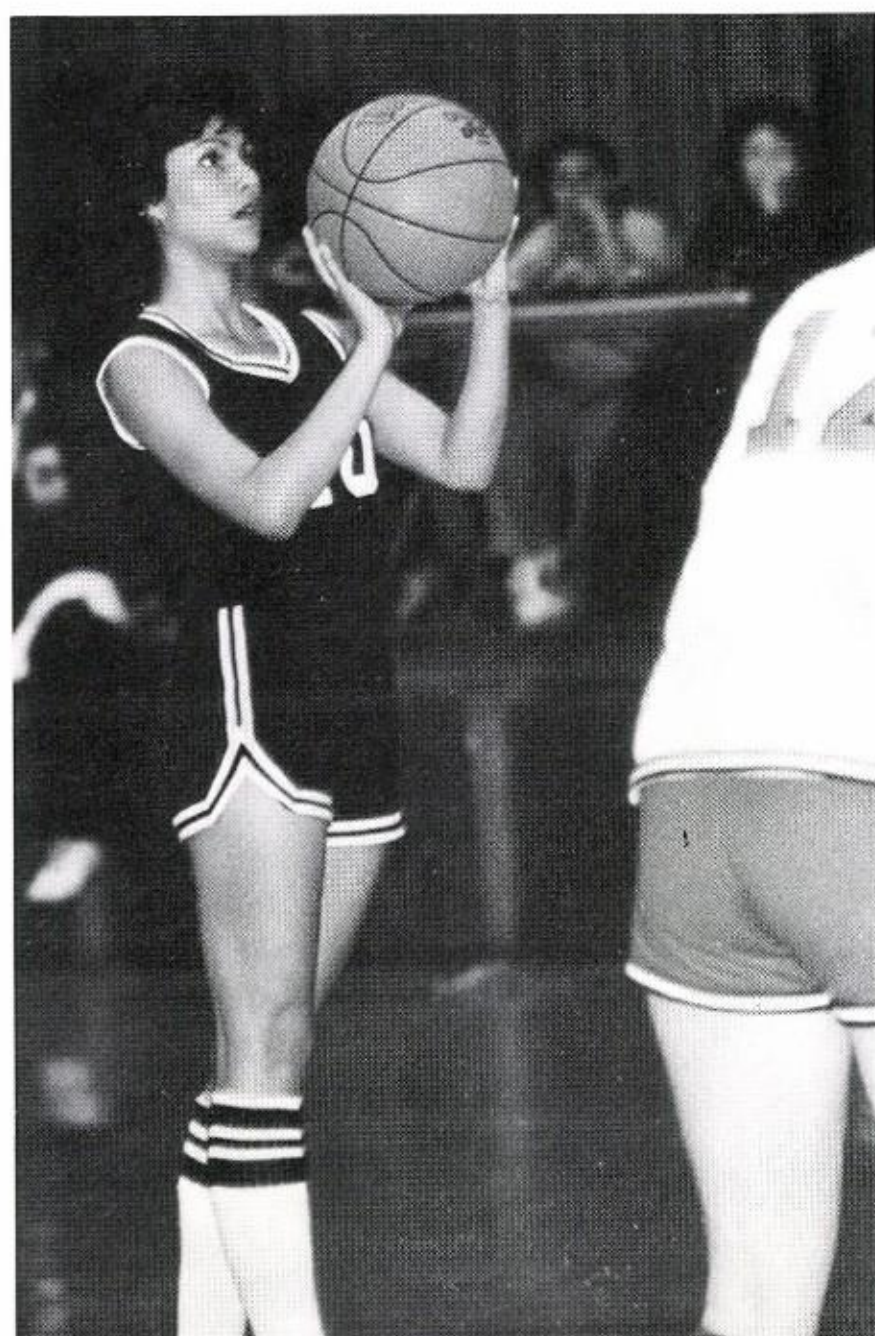

Mrs. Miller has been the Junior High coach for two years now and each year she works harder with the girls and they work harder for her. She is building a strong Junior High program which eventually will benefit our High School program. She has promoted the idea of a winning attitude, respect, confidence, and pride.

Kaija Demere and Teresa Charlesworth listen intently during halftime as Coach Mounts plans new strategy for the second half.

As a key point in the game, Pam Gonzales concentrates on her free throw.

Gaynell Glass establishes good form and jumping ability to make her jump shot a threat to the Christoval defense.

Low and ready to move, Pam Gonzales stands as a tough defender.

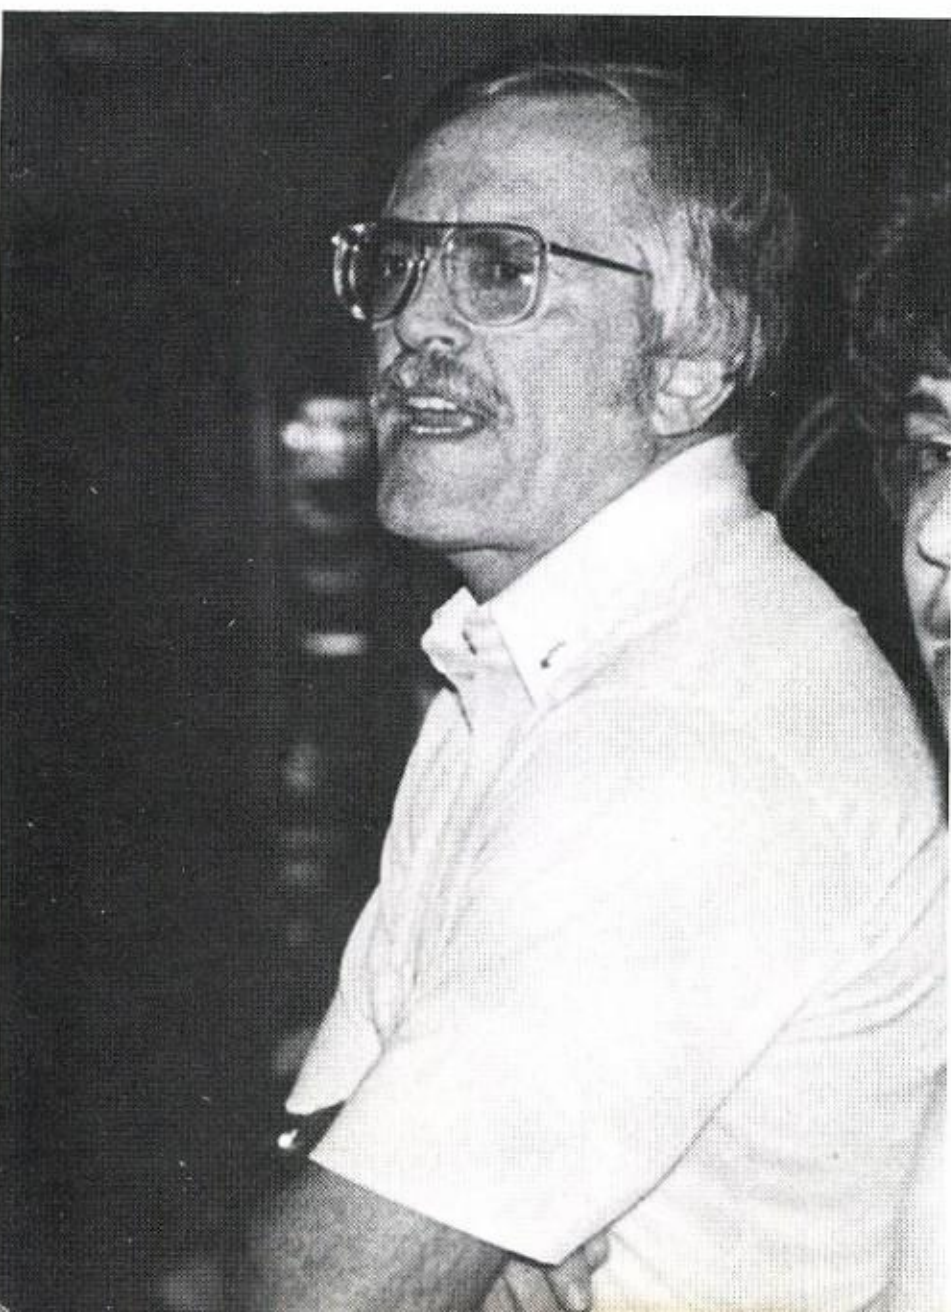

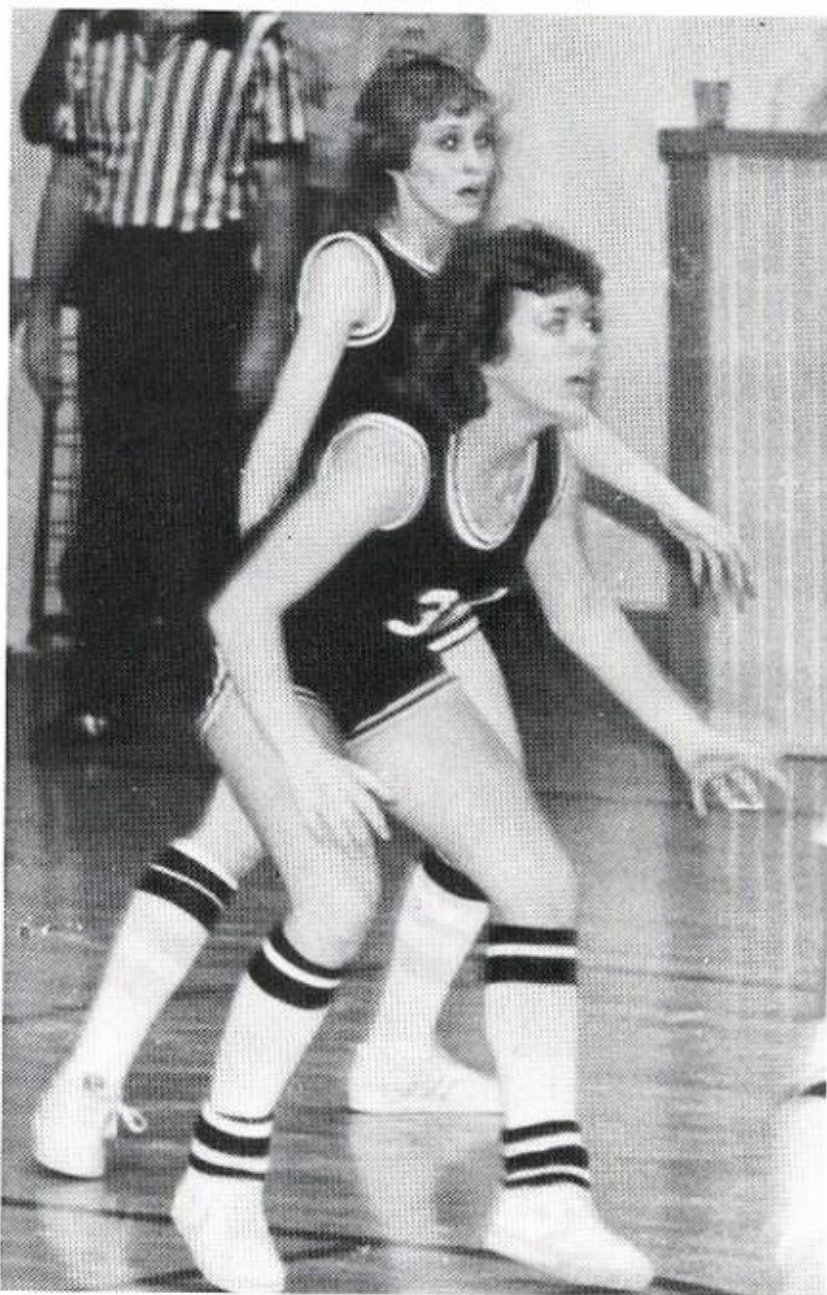

Head and shoulders past her defensive man, Coleen Glass makes her move to the basket.

The 1982/83 girls basketball team was an extremely competitive group of seniors, sophomores and freshmen who played with a ton of pride and desire. A mid-season slump caused by injuries to key players, brought out the true character of this team, winning third in district. They found that team play and the will to win sometimes overcomes adversity and superior talent. I am extremely proud of this team and what it accomplished, and hope what they started will reflect in future Wildcat teams.

Becky Hargraves attempts to expand the lead the Wildcats held against Paint Rock.

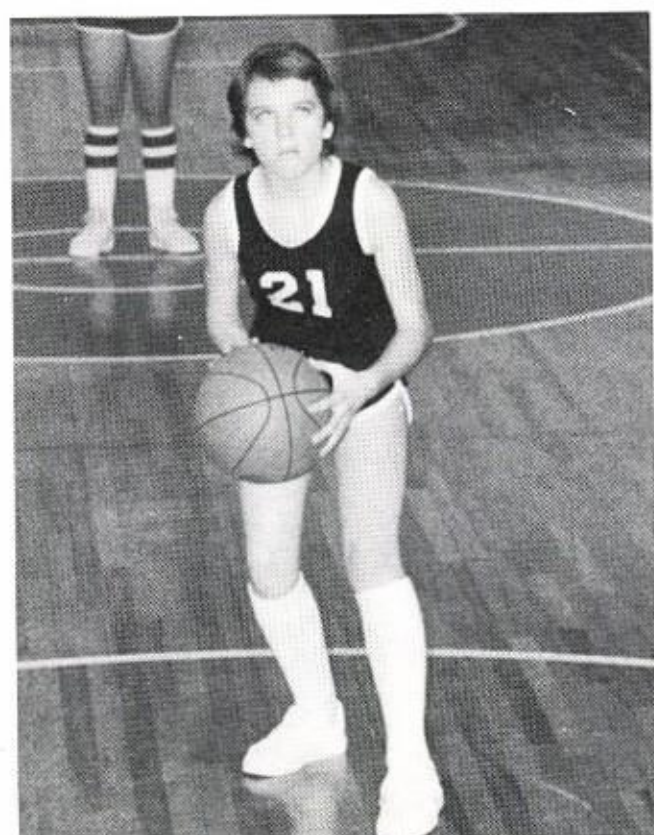

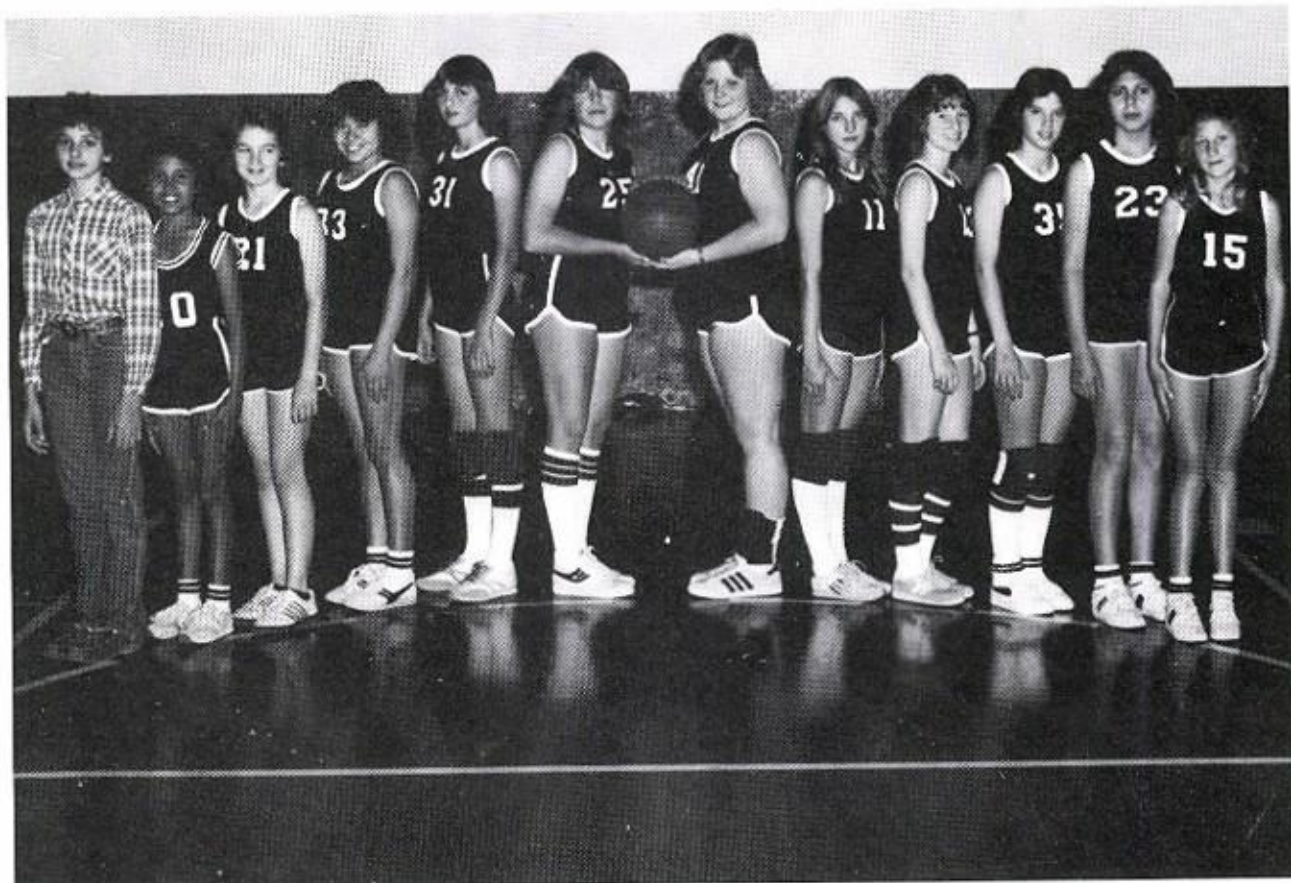

Sharie Cavaness exhibited much talent this basketball season and was a good assist to her teammates.

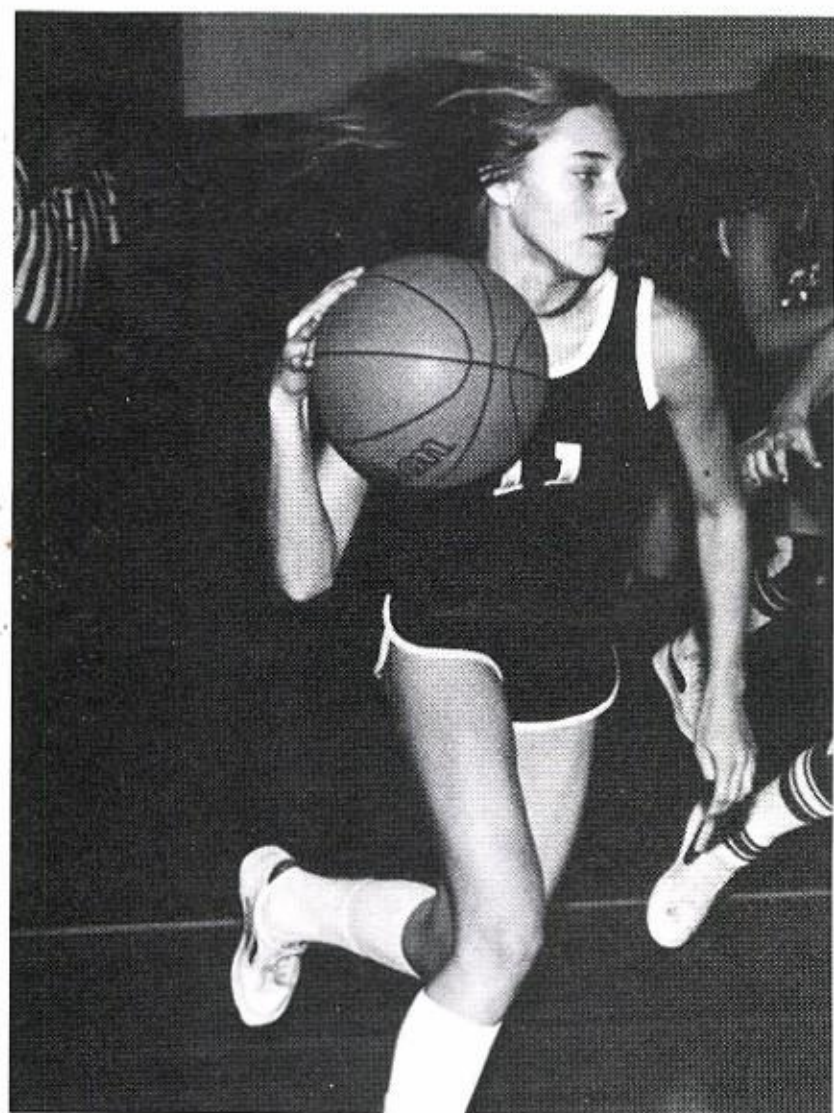

Penny Geabes gains excellent position for an upcoming rebound.

"The Water Valley basketball team did an excellent job for a group of young men that returned only one part-time starter from last year's team," quoted Coach Sandy McSpadden. "Three of the Wildcat starters this season had not played basketball since the eighth grade, and this should give them an excellent chance to win a district crown next season. Naturally, we were unhappy that we finished in third place, but we were pleased with our team defense which finished first in district allowing our opponents an average of 33.7 points per game."

Defense was the name of the game when Water Valley hosted Eola, defeating them 54 to 41.

Every team needs a "lefty" and Craig Chambers proved his ball handling and shooting skills even if he doesn't do it with the right hand.

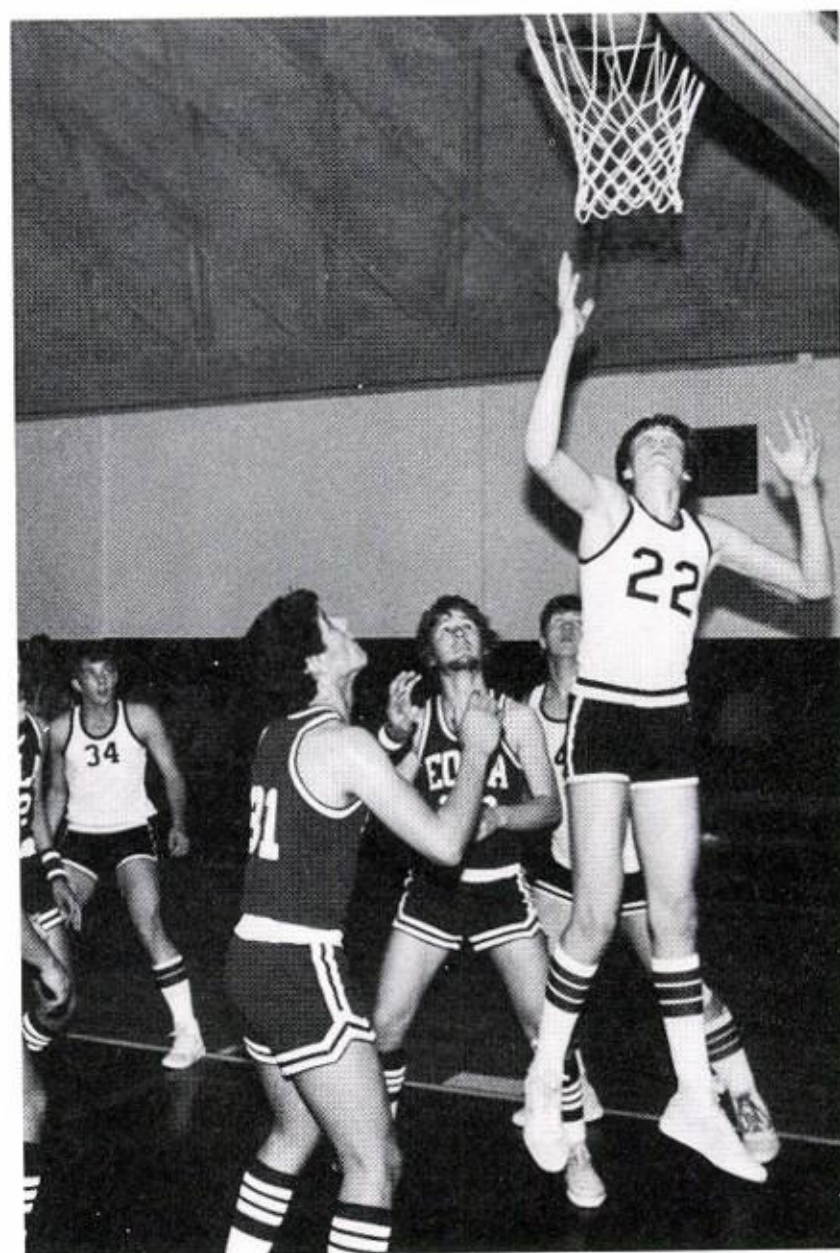

Concentration and precise form were the keys to Tim Smith's success each time he approached the free shot line.

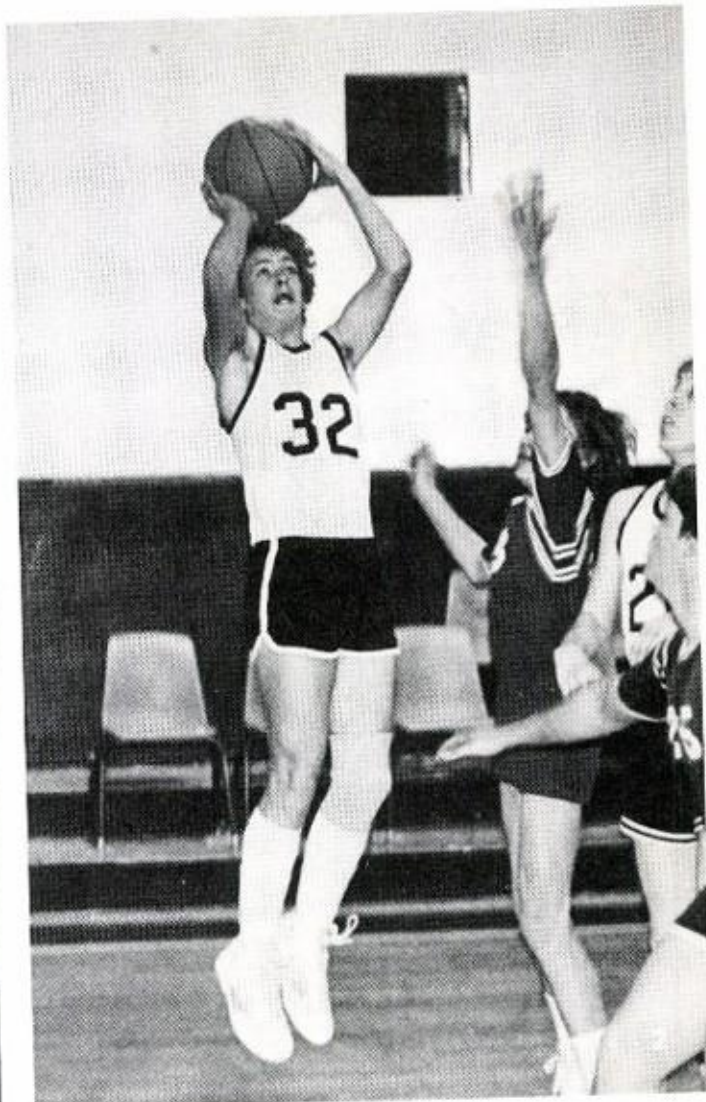

GO FOR TWO!

Daniel Fontenot, being a veteran of the game of basketball, dominated the court with his dedication and talent for the sport.

Double Deuces was the number that threatened every defense. Six foot three, Tom Elzey was just a sophomore with potential that everyone paid attention to.

Fans watched with amazement when Billy Montgomery reached for the sky to defend his opponent.

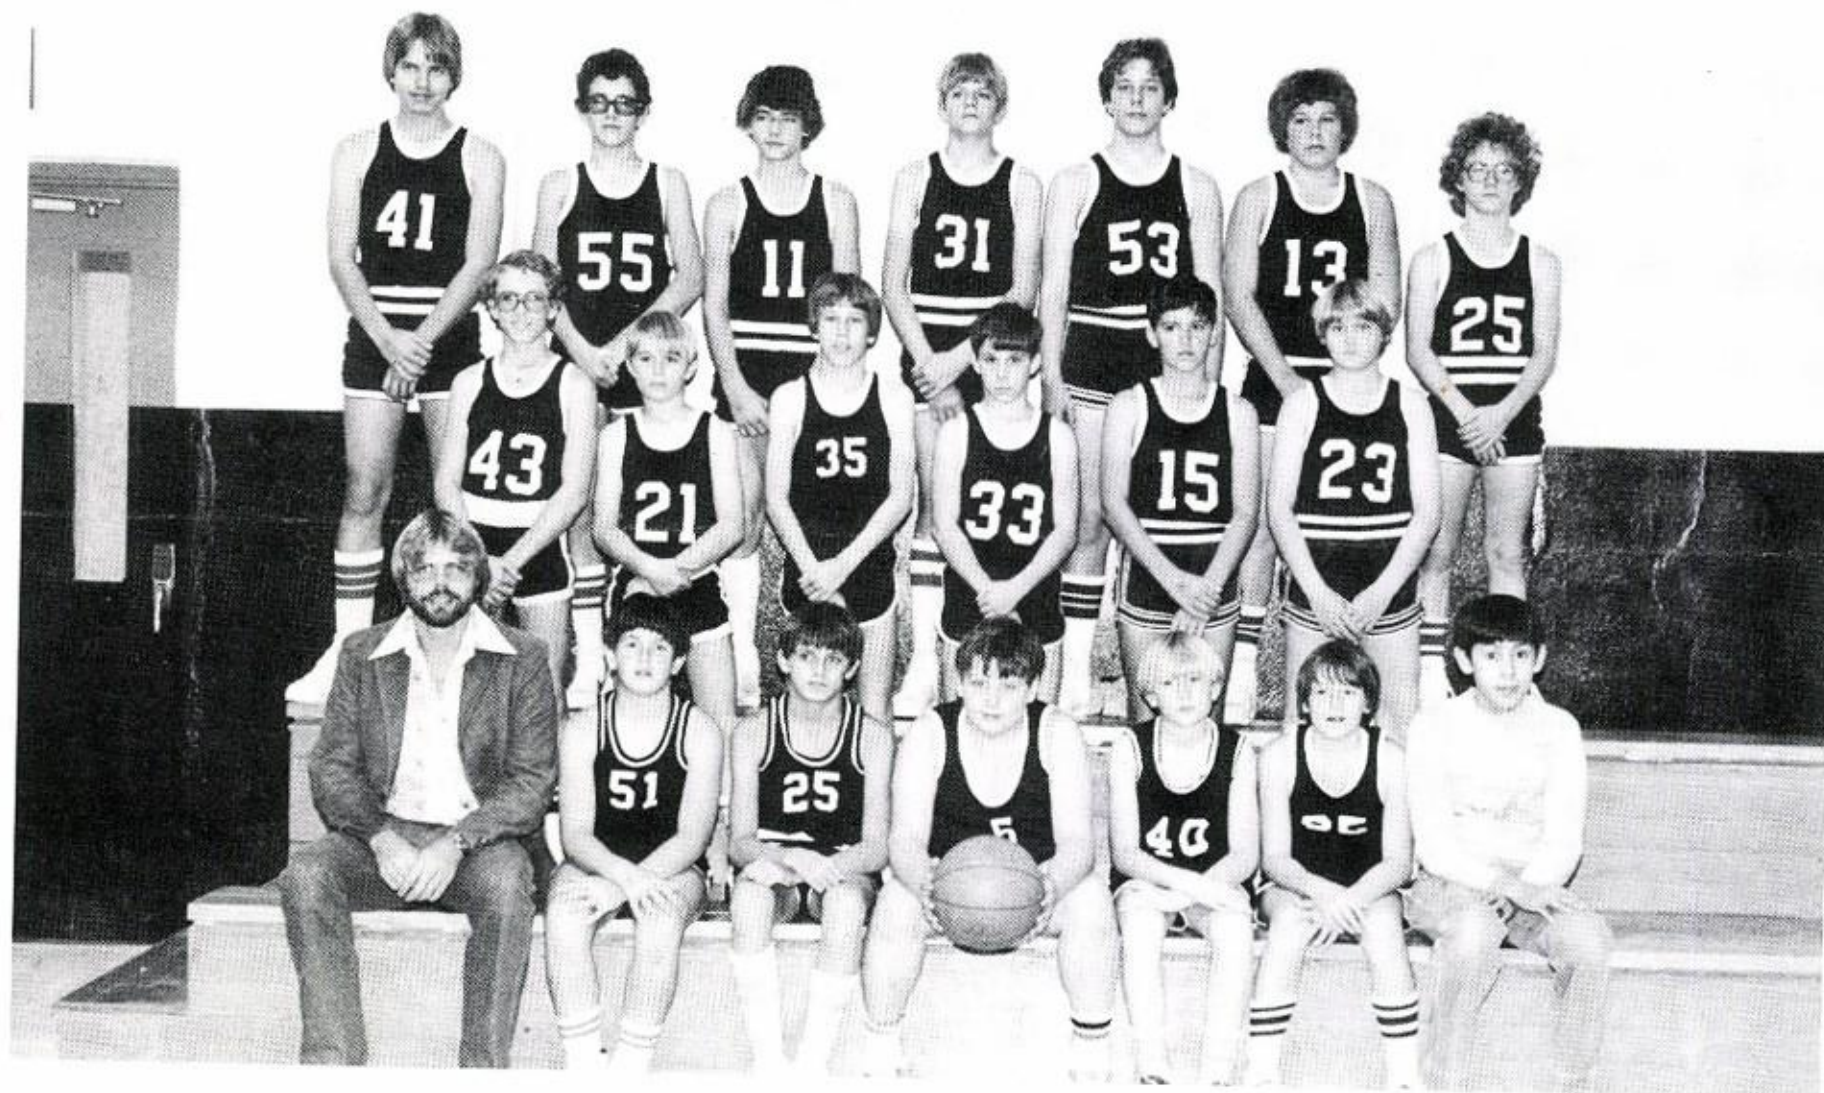

1. Terry Guawain's quickness reserved him a position under the basket to shoot.
2. Terril Ramsey has his eye on two points as he is about to release his source.
3. Charlie Rivers takes twice the stride and twice the effort to advance to the goal.
4. Kyle Bailey makes it appear easy as he lays one up!

JR. HIGH BOYS BASKET- BALL

1. Leroy Boatright plans to advance the score one point at a time.

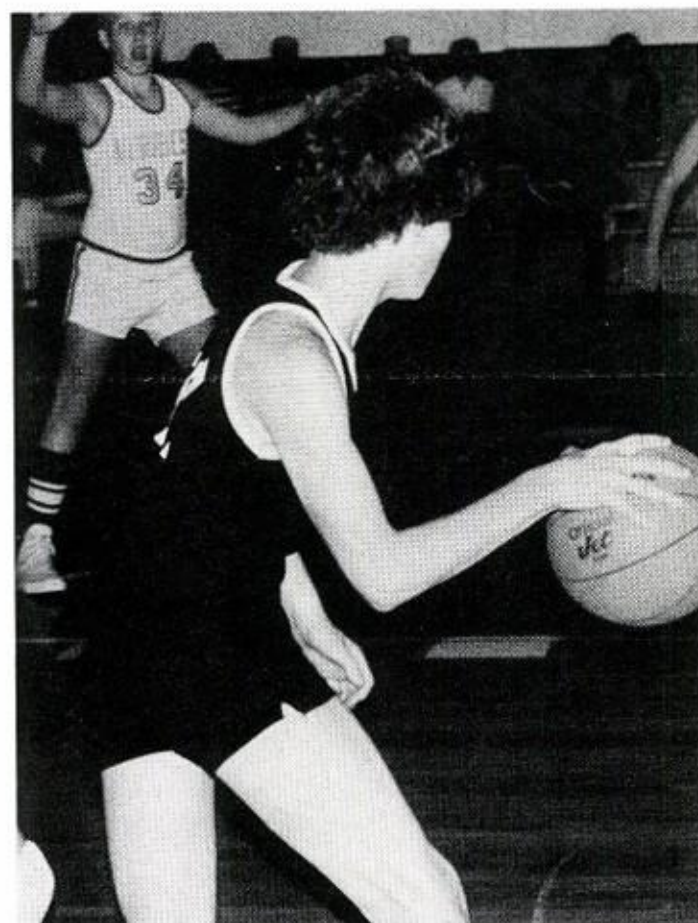

2. Jeff Doty gives 100% of his effort with the jump ball.

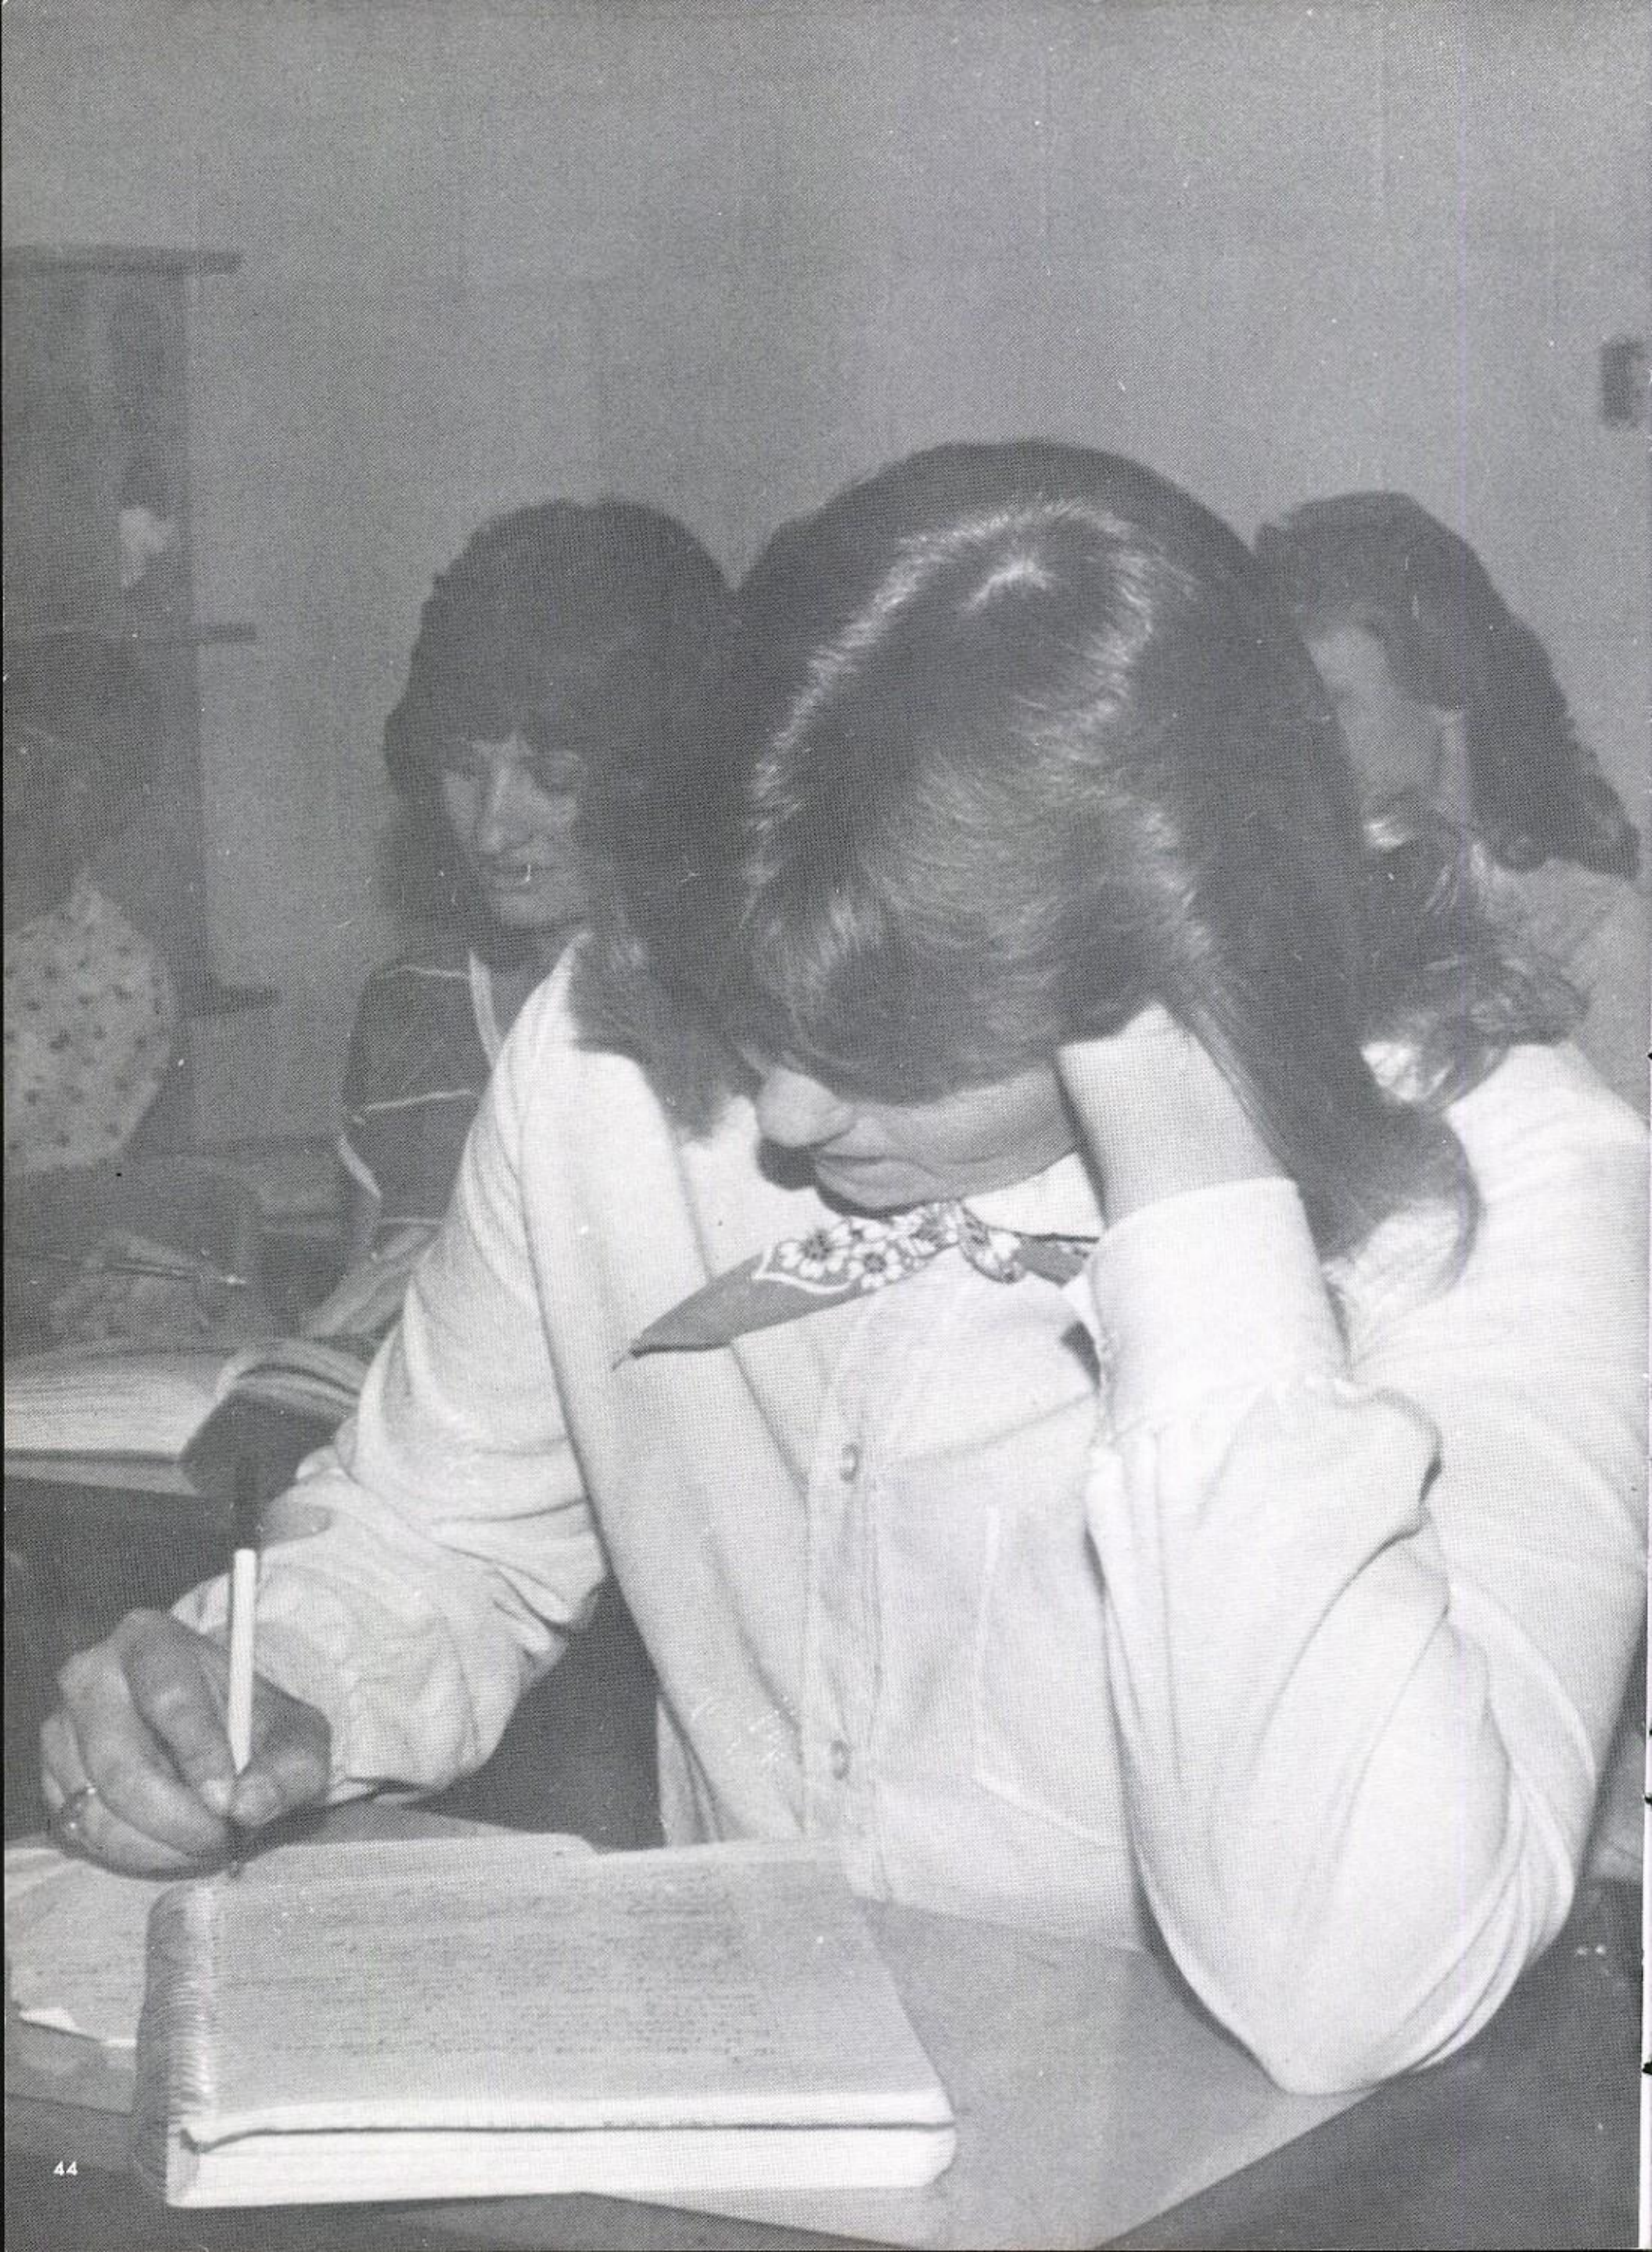

Left to Right: Bobby Jennings, Rick Doty, Wayne Jordan, Jack Bates, Todd Miller, Tim Teagarden, Jay Lankford, James Robinson, Leroy Boatright, Kris Kromer, Shane Sanders, John Cavaness, Freddie Brannon, Coach; Kevin Sides, Tim Hayes, Jeff Doty, Robert Compton, George Boatright, David Rotan, Tony Juarez.

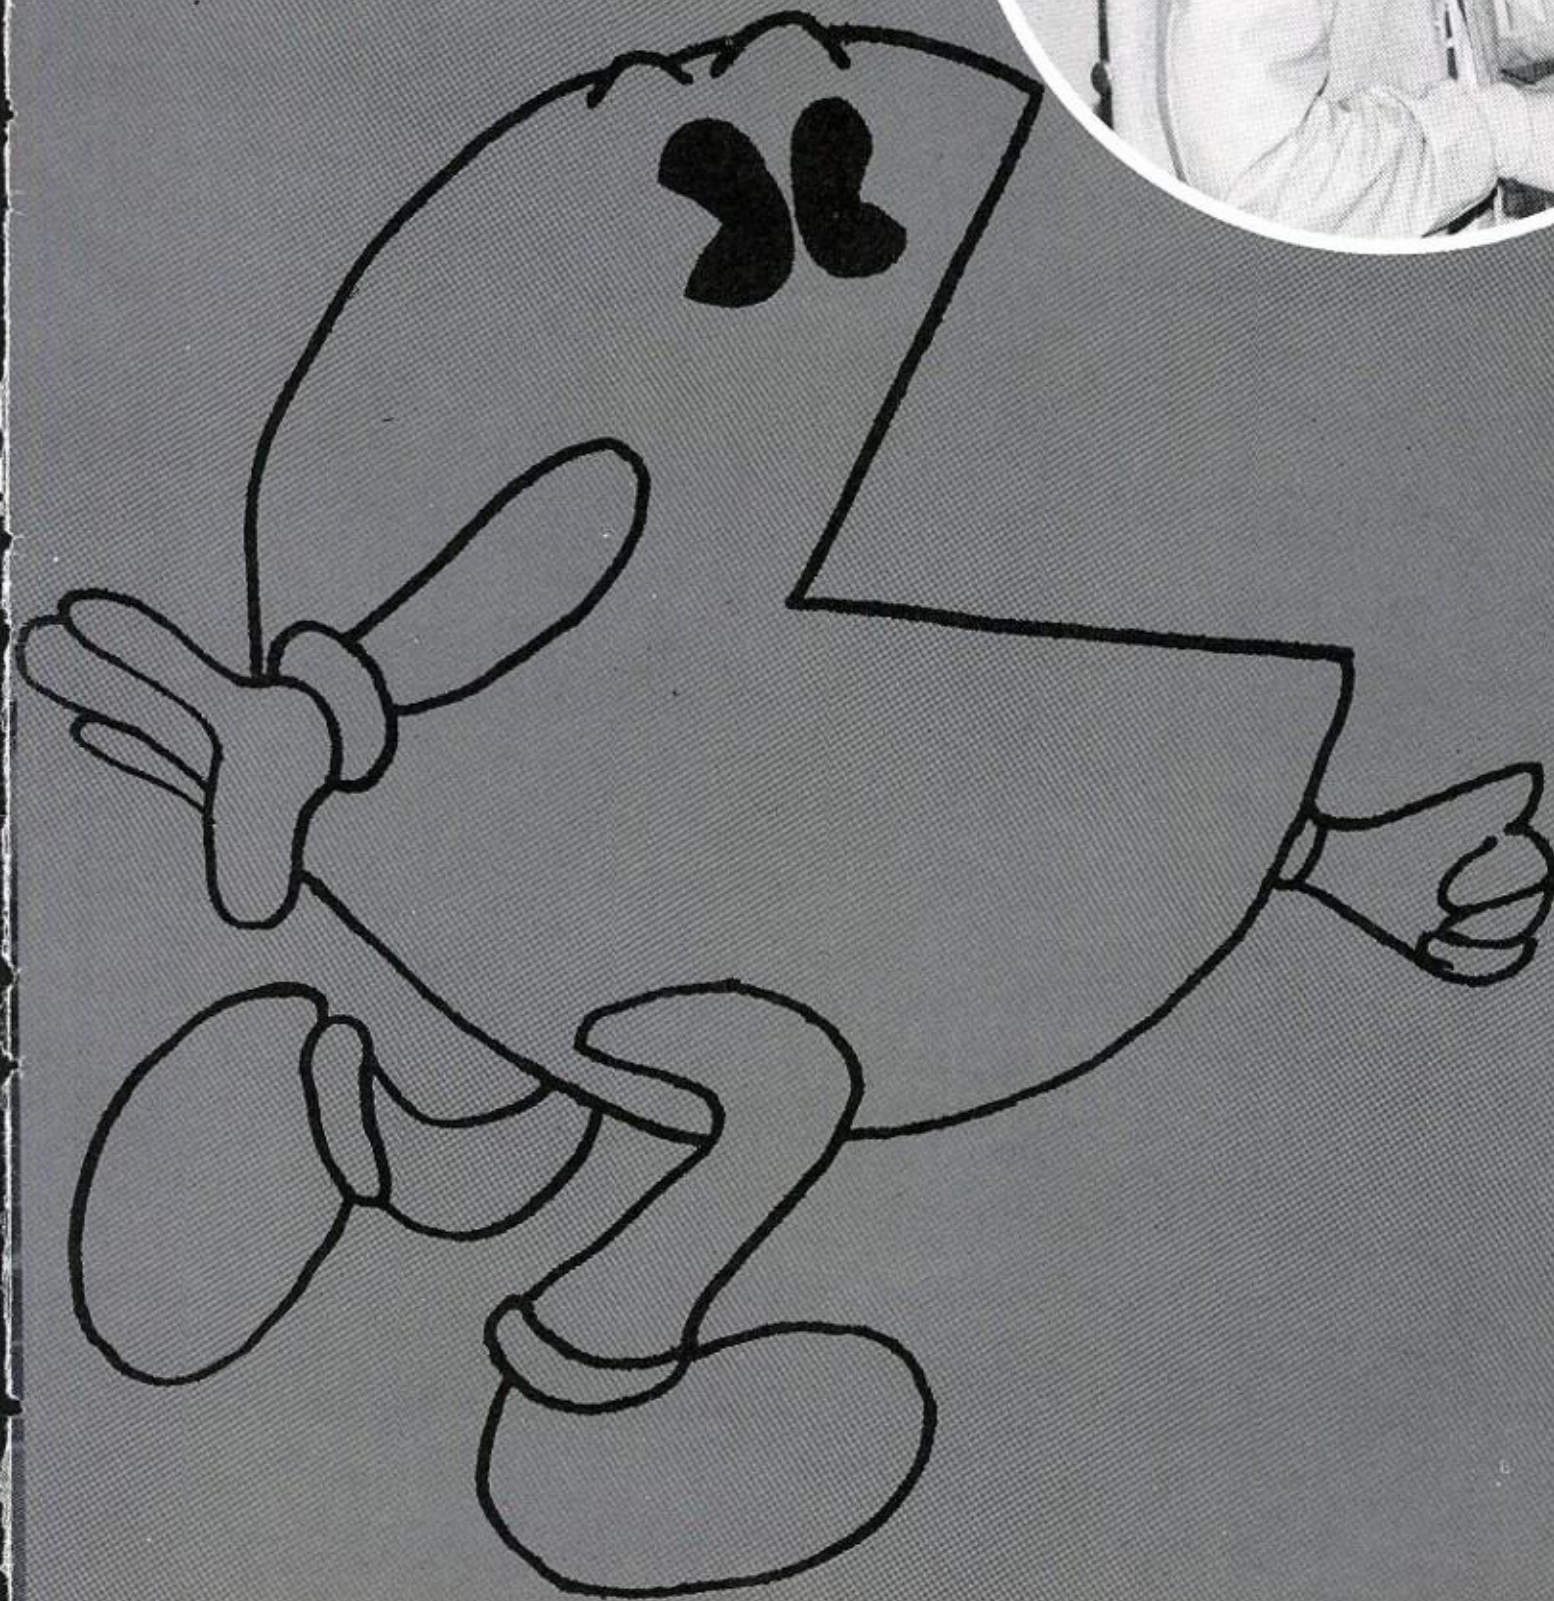

1. Robert Compton challenges anyone to possess the ball while he has control.
2. Bobby Jennings takes the ball down on Veribest with control.
3. Wayne Jordan protects the ball from his opponent.

Being a senior is a time for sharing the excitement of planning the senior trip and racking your brain for ideas to raise money to make the trip possible. It's a time to exercise your authority as a leader among the younger students, and to be aware that just around the corner that authority will disappear on graduation night. Deep in the heart of most seniors is a wish for one more athletic season, one more year to enjoy senior privileges, one more chance to do something a little better or to right a wrong. The wish remains in spite of the knowledge that all we can do is leave behind a mark or a memory; a part of our lives through which others will pass.

THE SENIOR TRIP TO FANTASY ISLAND

In 1983, the Water Valley Seniors went to Fantasy Island for their Senior trip. Flying on a chartered Rio Airlines plane to Mr. Roark's neighborhood, they all thrilled at the prospect of living out their wildest hallucinations for five glorious days. Upon arrival, they checked into the Wildcat suites of the Heartbreak Hotel and wandered over to meet Mr. Roark and his skilled and effective sidekick, Tattoo.

After introductions and much merry-making, they all drove over to the Yellow Dirt Road in Mr. Roark's golf cart to begin their journey. Miss Herridge stayed at the Dew Drop Inn with Tattoo and played the Ms. Pac Man game and listened to jungle music on the Muzark system while sipping V-8 juice.

Dusty, Richard, Kim and Cornell chose the Rodeo Fantasy and won lots of belt buckles and saddles for their skill at Bull Shooting, Bull Throwing, dancing the Cotton-Eye Joe, and wearing tight-fitting jeans. Kim married a rodeo clown named Bandy and hired a wino to decorate their Rodeo Arena. Dusty found a redneck girl to go with his white socks and Blue Ribbons but she took his Senior ring and ran off with a truck driver. Cornell was sent to prison for cheating on a mechanical bull ride and when Richard drove his pick-up in the rain to pick her up at the station she had missed her train.

Vicki, Sharon, Kindra and Benita went to Woodstock in their fantasy and stole the show by performing as the "spaced-out" sisters and singing their smash hit, "Another Brick in the Ear." After the festival they took the Love Boat back to the island and chaperoned Mr. and Mrs. Greer Willis on their honeymoon.

Chris and Ted represented Poland at the Moscow Olympics. Chris was disqualified for throwing his discus into the stands and then was sent to Siberia to tan bear skins for being an American spy. He was arrested because he wore number 007 on his uniform and signed his letters home with "From Russia, with Love." Ted was disqualified from being the official Polish Olympic photographer when the KGB caught him in the woman's locker room singing, "Baby I'm Amazed."

Dena tried to find happiness without Tim and wound up falling in love with gang-leader from New York's lower east side. They married and had 16 delinquent children. Tim, on the other hand, ended up marrying into the Melvin Klein family and marketing his own line of men's designer underwear.

Bob Doty made his fantasy of owning the Generic Brand Beer Distributorship in Broome, Texas become a reality, but then left it to change fantasies. It seems that a wandering band of Hare Krishna monks stopped in Broome one day to purchase some of Bob's product. After guzzling several 12-packs, the itinerant monks were able to convert Bob and he became a Hare Krishna evangelist.

Bob quickly recruited Julian Jalomo into his new fantasy as his sidekick songleader and they roamed across west Texas holding tent revivals in major cities like Salt Gap, Bear Valley and Bronte. One evening while crusading Mertzon, Bob and Julian wound up at the Mertzon Ford Tractor Dealership where Calvin Cates was living out his fantasy as the biggest volume dealer of Ford Riding Lawnmowers in the world. Bob and Julian became Calvin's leading salesmen of used riding lawnmowers and backed up their sales with expert service from ace mechanic, Trina Owens. Trina set a Guinness Book of World Records mark for being able to overhaul a lawnmower engine in less than 3 minutes, 29 seconds. To reward his staff's outstanding performance, Calvin took them all on a round-the-world trip in his hot-air balloon sponsored by Motorcraft Sparkplugs.

Pam, Becky and Gaynell went to Los Angeles seeking fame and fortune.

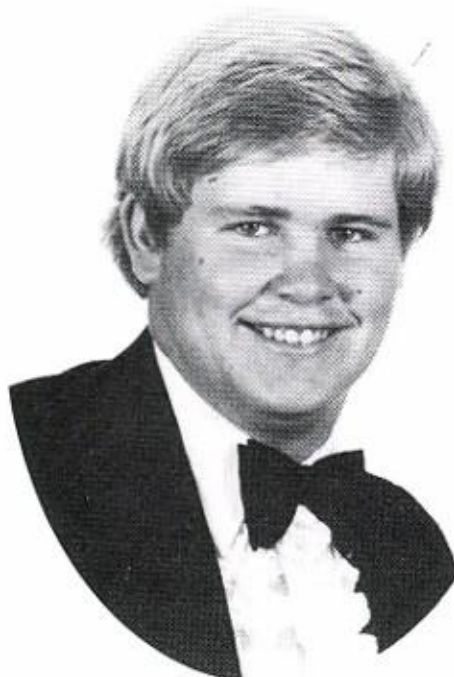

Pam became a Los Angeles Ram's cheerleader and did a ram-tough job of screaming at opposing teams. Becky wound up at the beach where she flirted with all the lifeguards and body-builders, hung ten on her surfboard and played volleyball with all the beach boys and surfer girls. Gaynell won an oscar, a grammy, and an emmy award for her role in the movie, "Fast Times at Water Valley High," and then appeared on solid gold to sing her solid gold hit, "Heart of Glass," with Andy Gibb. After many appearances on TV talk shows and magazine covers she rejoined Pam and Becky and drove Becky's Woody back to the island.

Billy and Kenneth started off on a surfing safari with Becky, but took a wrong turn and found themselves on Mutual of Omaha's Wild Kingdom with Marlin Perkins who happened to be on a safari in Nigeria, hunting the rare club-footed hyena. They were attacked by a band of hair-lipped pygmies who speared Billy in the earlobe and bit off Kenneth's big toe. Billy gained over a thousand yards against the pygmies.

Mark went to Hollywood and told talent scouts there that he was Burt Reynolds' brother. He was given a job as the stunt man for, "That's Incredible" and as a double for, "Those Amazing Animals." Eventually, he got into the twilight zone and found his way back to Water Valley.

Robin's fantasy took her to Rome where she became a singing nun. She soon retired and joined the circus to perform with the amazing trick dog act. She ran into Tim Blair and Gerald Stover who had opened a snowmobile and dog sled repair shop in Colorado. Robin sold her dogs to Tim and Gerald who rented them as sled dogs and she started singing with John Denver. Tim and Gerald eventually won the world cup of snowmobiling with dogs, while Robin's first single, "Some days are Zirconium, Some Day's Stink," went platinum.

Diann went to Broadway to try her luck as Lady Bracknell. She finally got a role playing the part of Ophelia in Hamlet. Her fantasy was "to be or not to be" . . . She decided not to be and returned early to the island in time to catch Coach Mounts in his fantasy as being the executive vice-principal at Texas A&M where Mr. Fleming was the president of the school.

At the end of 5 days, all the seniors returned to find David still at the yellow dirt road trying to decide which fantasy to choose. He had a hard time because he lives in a dream world most of the time and he could not really tell what was fantasy and what was reality.

It was a trip they'll never forget. Especially the goodbye party where Tattoo put a string of flowers around Nurse Dolly Herridge's neck and kissed Ted on the shin.

Being a freshman is really special to some of us. Participating in athletics with the upper-classman makes you feel really important. Being our first year in high school has made this year fun and exciting, too. We are looking forward to the years ahead when we can look back and remember all the things we should have done, should not have done, but did anyway. It was really meaningful to be able to communicate with your teachers and school mates, and understand each other. Being a freshman was sure fun, good luck 8th grade.

An extraordinary event occurred on the Water Valley football field one thrilling night which extended among the fans and the student body. We shouted 4-3-2-1 . . . and the first victory in Eleven-Man Football became history. It was a phenomenon that the team, fans, and the community will look back on and distinguish from all other triumphs.

The Ground-Breaking Ceremony

Dick Burnett, State Representative, gave a very encouraging speech for the new high school.

Pam Gonzales, president of the student council, proudly takes part in the groundbreaking.

Miss Fincher and Mr. Kromer look forward to a new and better high school to lead.

The groundbreaking ceremony was special to everyone. To the students it meant there would soon be a new high school with more students to meet and better opportunity for educational growths. For the faculty it means better teaching facilities to improve and continue to provide a strong educational institution for all the students. As the new high school goes up, perhaps the community will be able to pull together and give the support any school may need to be successful.

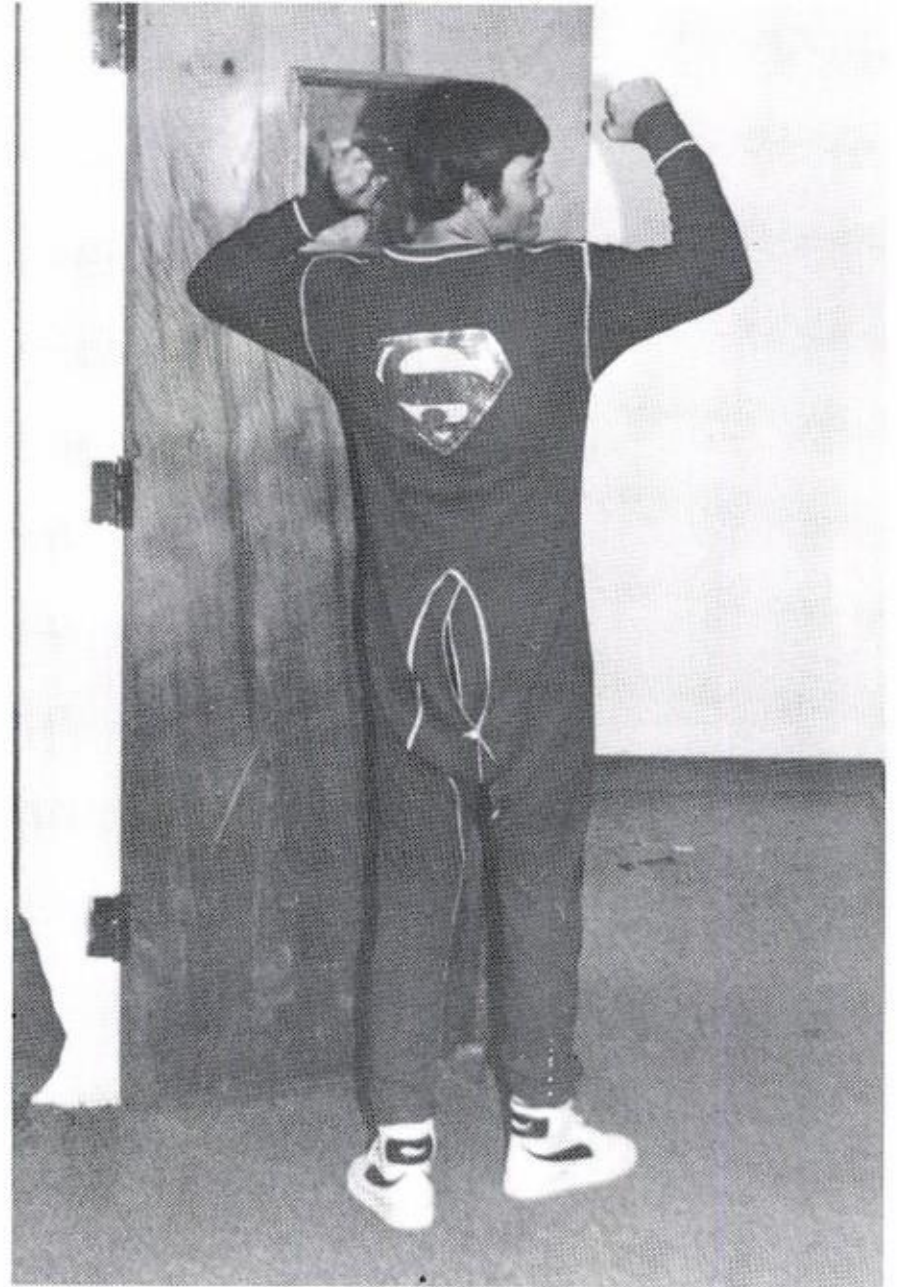

Homecoming Week Was

Tim Blair was everyone's hero. SUPERMAN captured the hearts of the student body, showing them his expression of spirit. Of course the initial "S" stood for spirit.

Ginger Chandler and Carolyn Herridge, unbelievably members of the faculty, made sure their military authority would hold the Wildcat fort down, which was bursting with spirit.

Everyone has heard of the three little pigs. Or have they? Kim Wilkes, Robin Cole, and Cornell Strube rooted their way around school and were obviously bulging out with spirit.

Packed With Perpetual Spirit

Tim Smith proudly paraded his girls, Dena Gibson, and Margo Smith once around the cafeteria, expressing his way of keeping the spirit plentiful.

AP

Amos and Andy, as portrayed by Anita Spieker and Cindy Turner, strutt through the cafeteria.

Kim Wilkes and Robin Cole were up to their ears in wood, helping the bonfire expand.

Our bonfire gave inspiration and desire to the football team as the attraction seemed angry from its blaze.

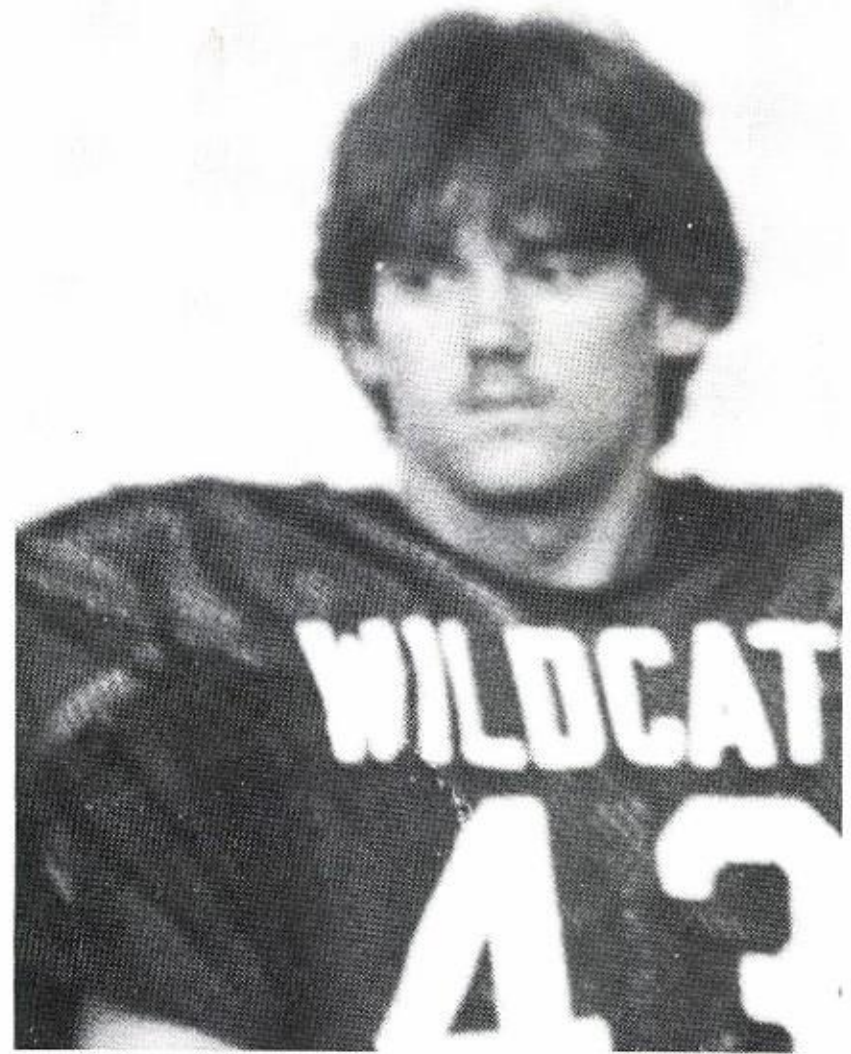

Apprehension along with anticipation were among the feelings of the three Homecoming Duchesses.

Dena Gibson wears a gleaming smile as her escort, David Jones exhibits the jitters.

FALL FESTIVAL

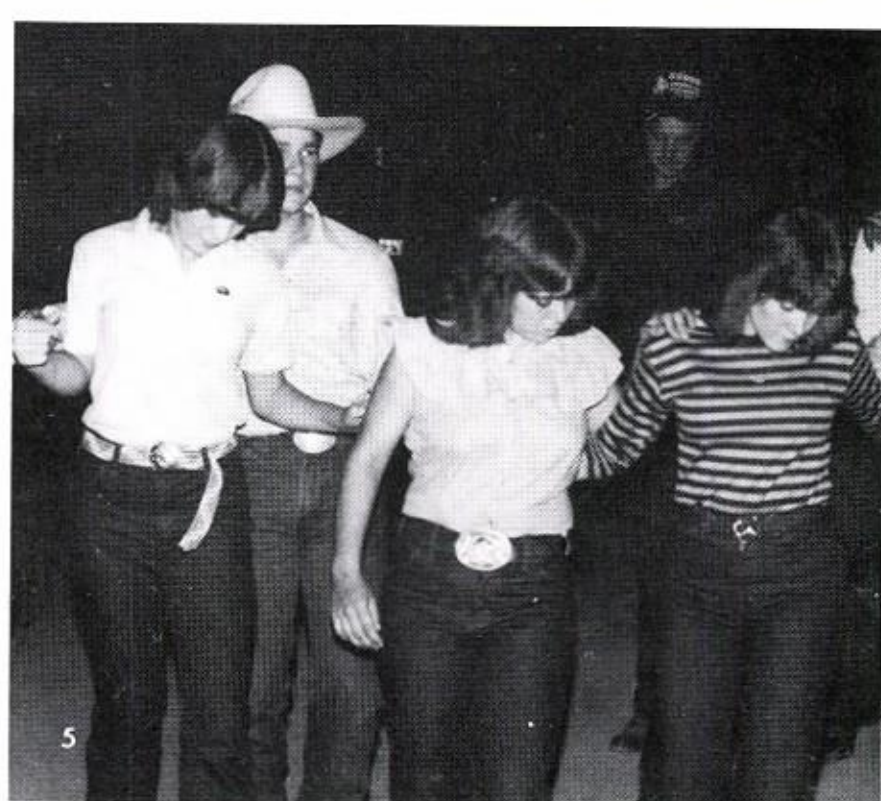

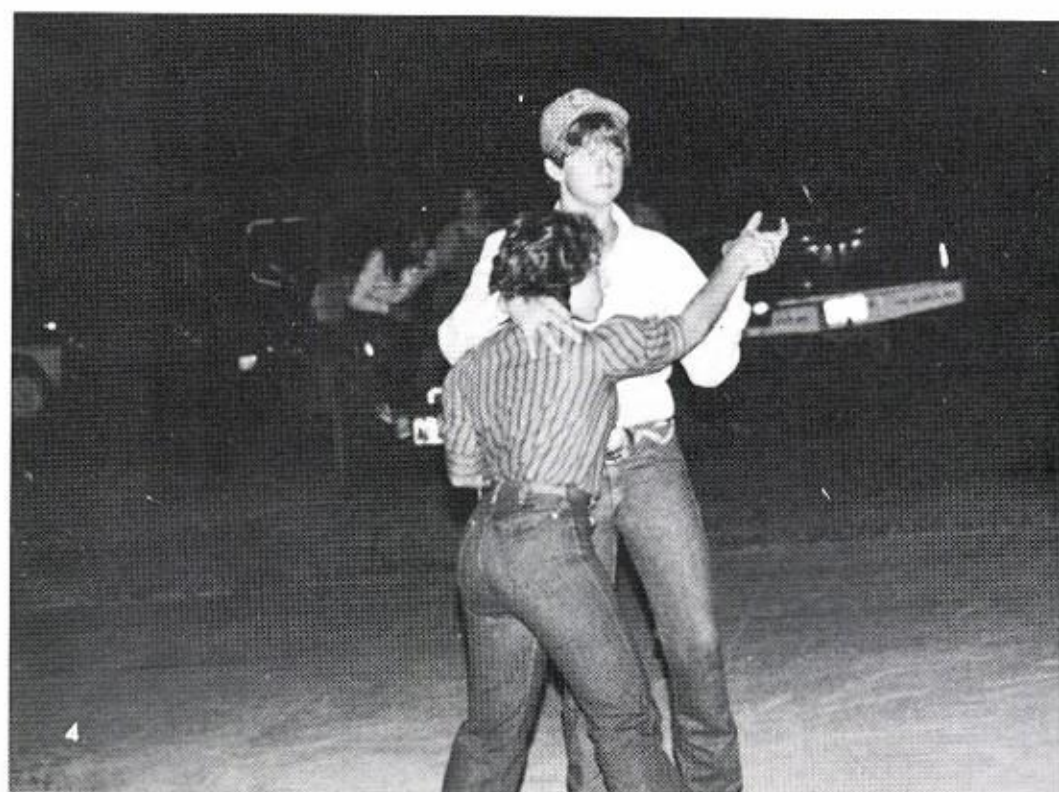

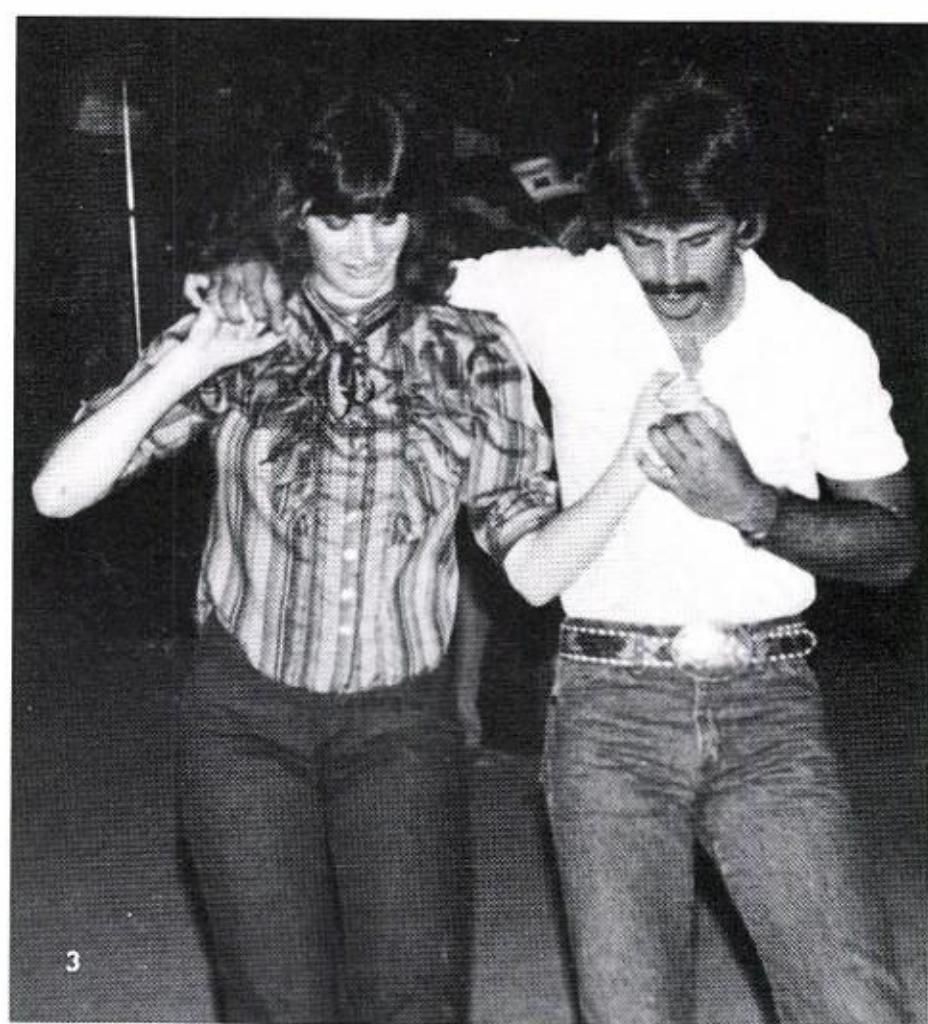

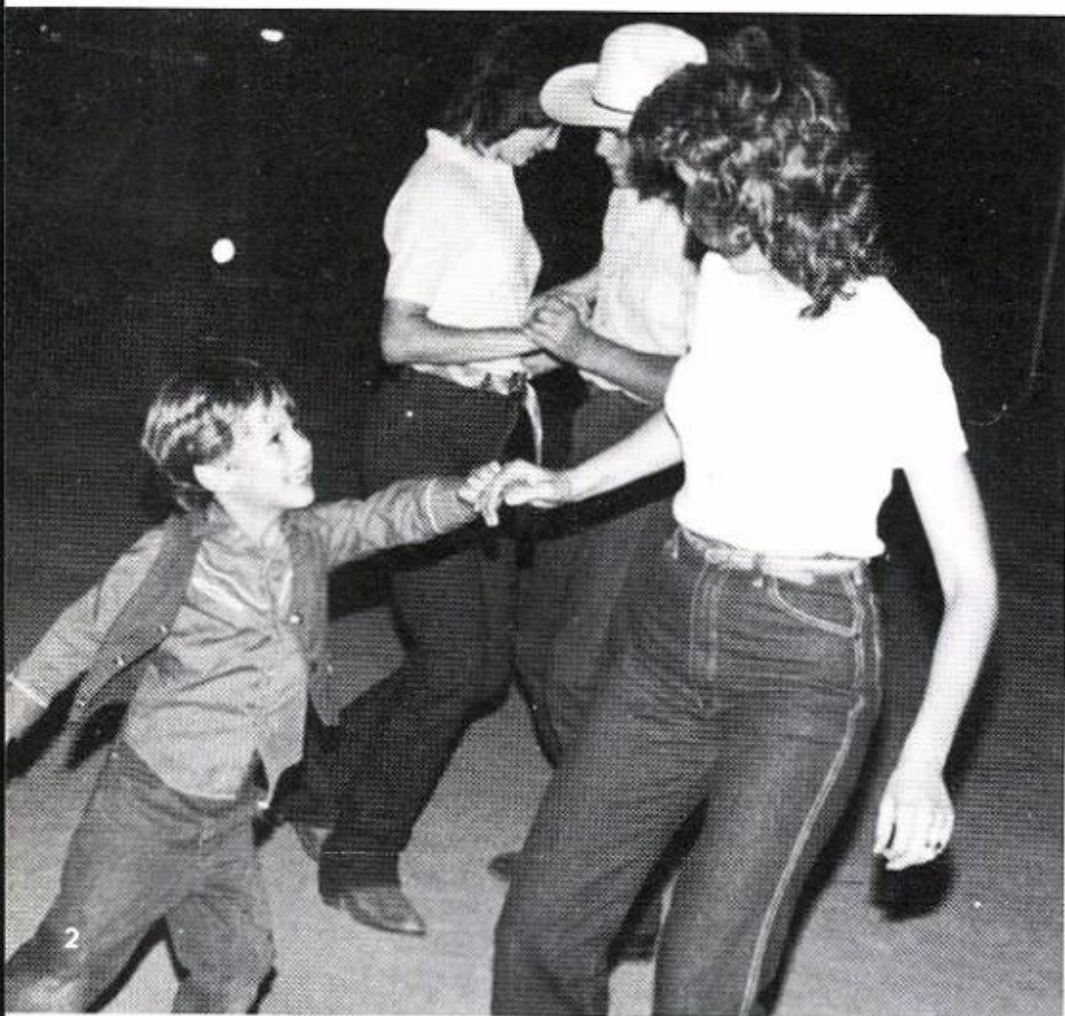

As a full harvest moon rises silently above Water Valley, witches and goblins came out to frolic at the 1982 Fall Festival. Crawling happily from booth to booth, the Halloween revelers sipped witches brew, chased black wildcats and played all sorts of magical games to raise money for class activities. Costume contests, spook houses and ghoulish food were enjoyed by all as the midnight hour approached and autumn slipped into another month.

KICK UP YOUR HEELS

Outside on the tennis court, music, refreshments, classmates and friends are combined for Saturday night entertainment at Water Valley High School.

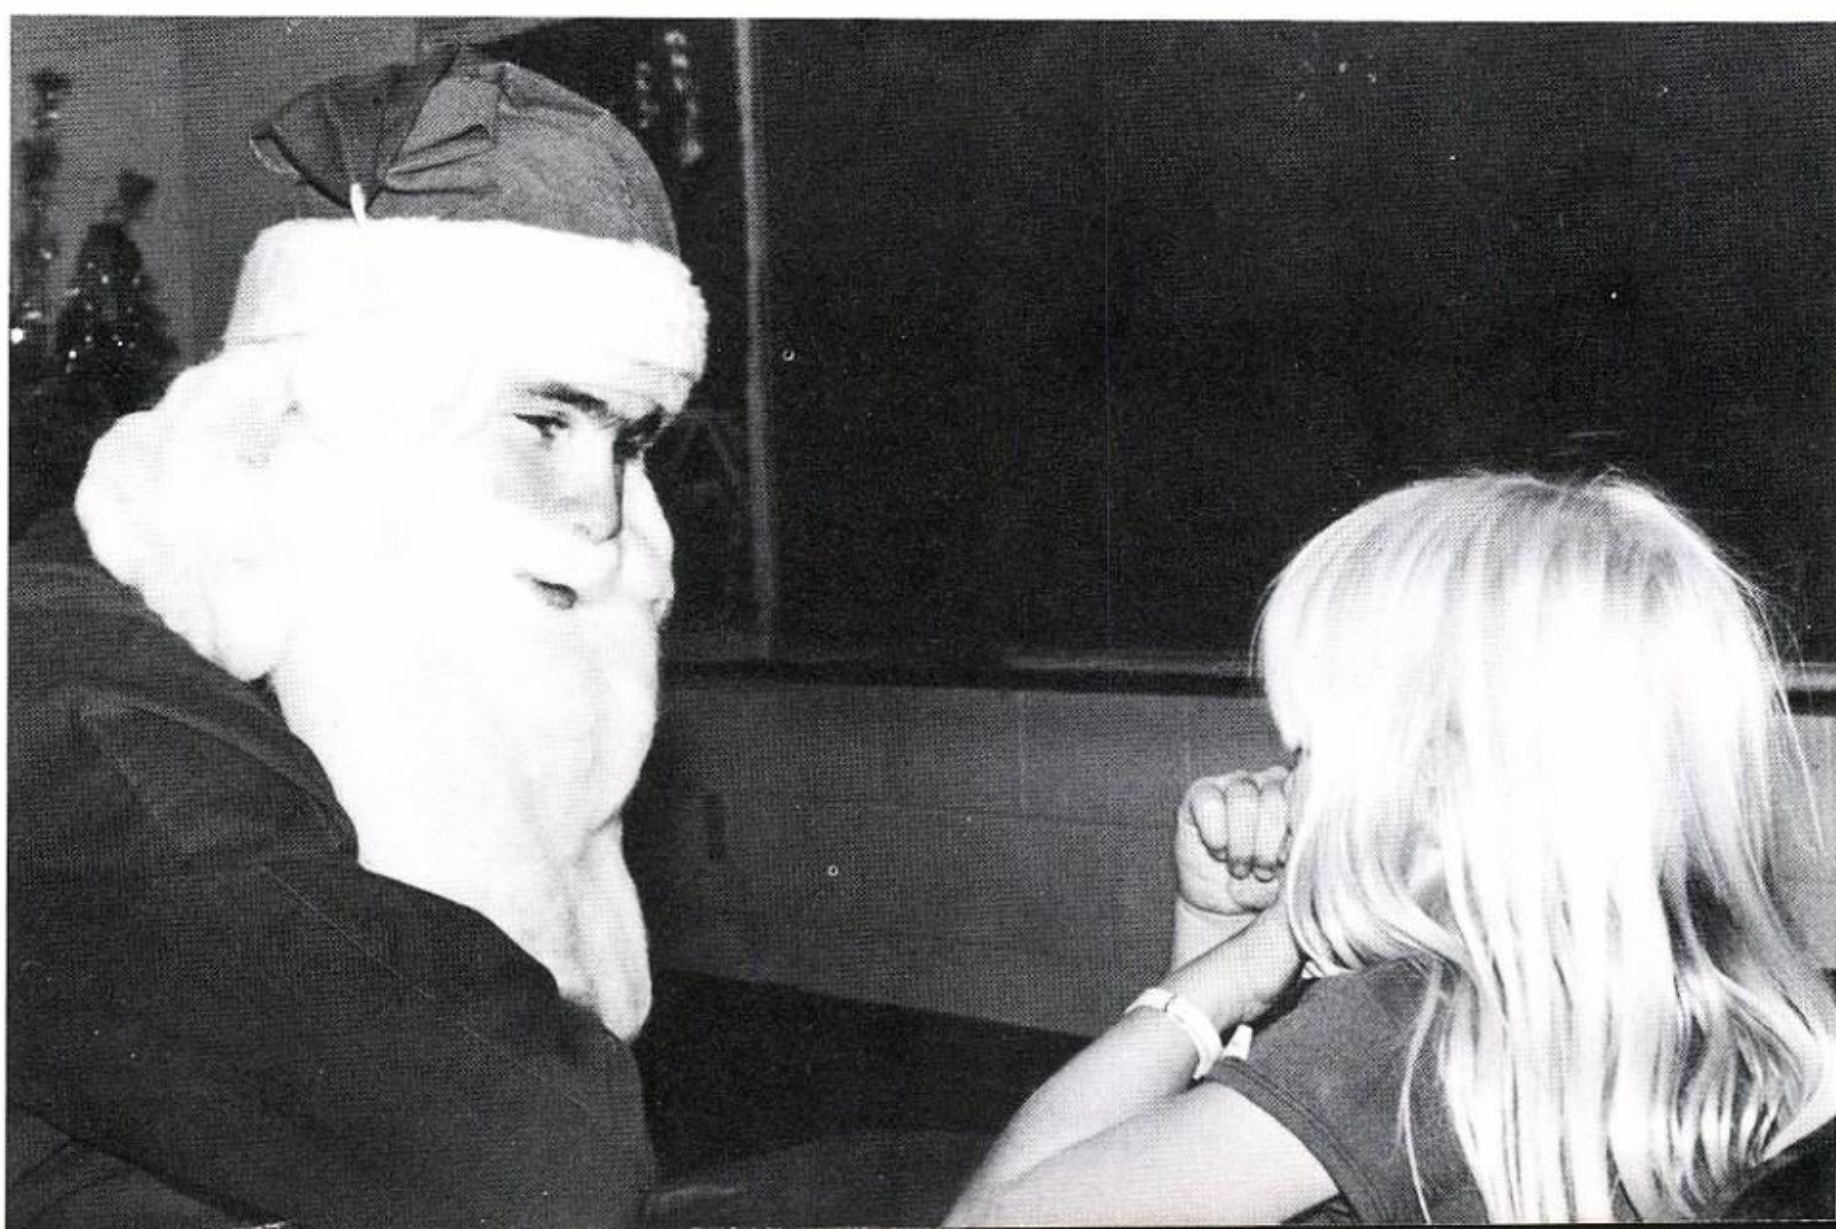

THE HARLEM TRAVELERS DROP IN ON WATER VALLEY

1. Two points for the Harlem Travelers, or is he worth four?
2. Traci McCoulskey is being attacked by a creeping toupee or is it just one of those many pranks pulled by the Harlem Travelers?
3. Nolan Fontenot is the recipient of the most loved referee award during the Harlem Travelers game against the Water Valley Ex's.

Christmas is a time for happiness and joy. No one expresses this sense of joy better than a small child, and the kids of Water Valley are no exception. With bright eyes and cheery faces, they await the arrival of that magical day. Even as we grow older, it's nice to know that deep inside we still have memories of Christmas as a child.

1. Benita Seargent took her decorating duty seriously as she prepared to string the Christmas tree lights.
2. Decorating the Christmas tree was a great excuse to skip class and Sharon Marcum took full advantage of the situation.
3. Santa's "elves" really enjoy wrapping presents to give to their elementary students.

OPEN THE CURTAINS AND SET THE STAGE

The Villain and the Toy Shop was a play presented by the Water Valley High School speech class. These short plays provide opportunities for the students acting advancement and the scripts also help prepare the actors and actresses for U.I.L. competition. The speech class shared several plays with the student body this year on every occasion. They worked long hours and performed to the best of their ability.

The Villain and the Toy Shop was under the direction of Donna King.

The twenty-member cast included Ted Bagwell, Benita Sargent, Chris Hoerster, Danny Schultz, Kindra Oaks, Robin Cole, Sandra Cervantez, Carlos Romo, Charlie Rivers, Pam Williford, Tom Ellzey, Cindy Turner, Will Charlesworth, Mark Lasater, Glenn Rust, Bubba Grimes, Dena Gibson, Diann Farris, David Jones, and Tim Blair.

On Christmas Eve, the evil Mr. Glowerpuss threatens to foreclose the toy shop mortgage unless Carolyn agrees to be his bride . . .

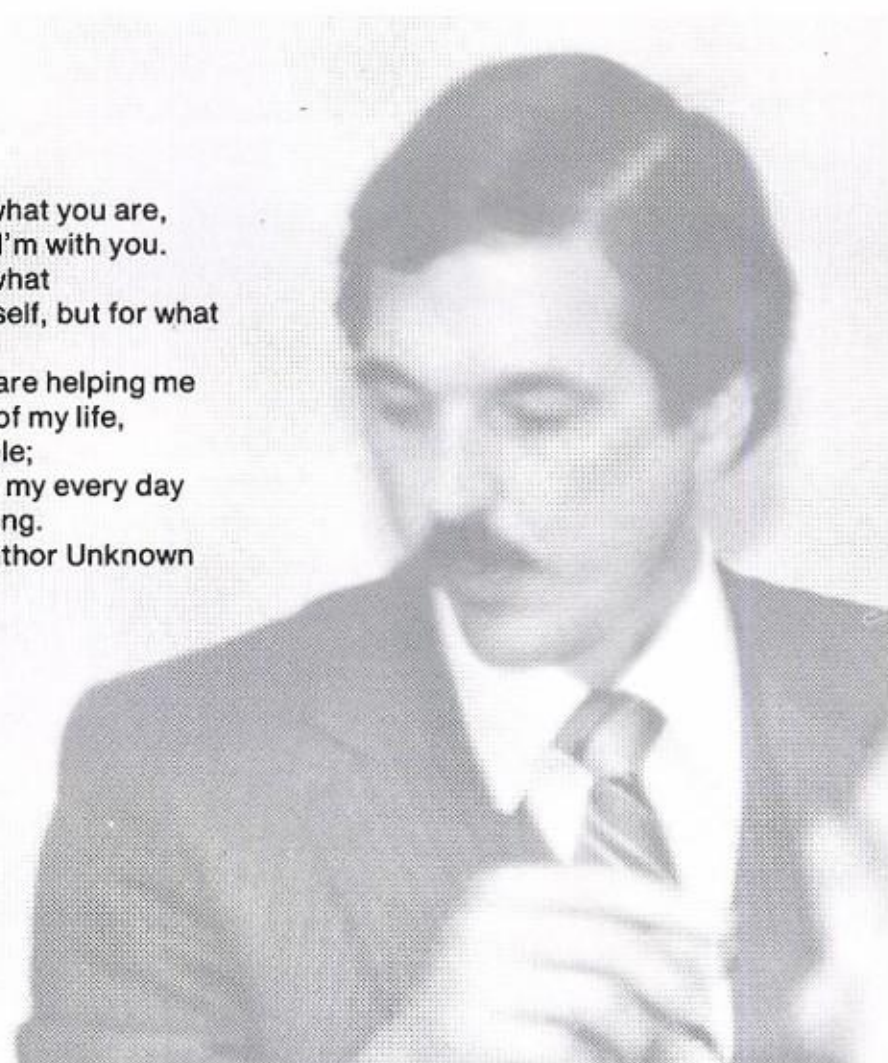

LOVE

I love you, not only for what you are,
But for what I am when I'm with you.
I love you, not only for what
You have made of yourself, but for what
You are making of me.
I love you because you are helping me
To make of the lumber of my life,
Not a tavern but a temple;
And out of the words of my every day
Not a reproach but a song.

Reflect back on the beginning of the year when school was just starting out and friendships were beginning to develop. Stop and count your friends and ask yourself who could be any luckier to have established the kind of relationships that you have throughout your school years.

There is nothing quite as unique as an everlasting friendship between a couple of students or teachers. There are also those special teacher-student relationships that become an unforgettable memory. Hold dear your friendships because they are priceless.

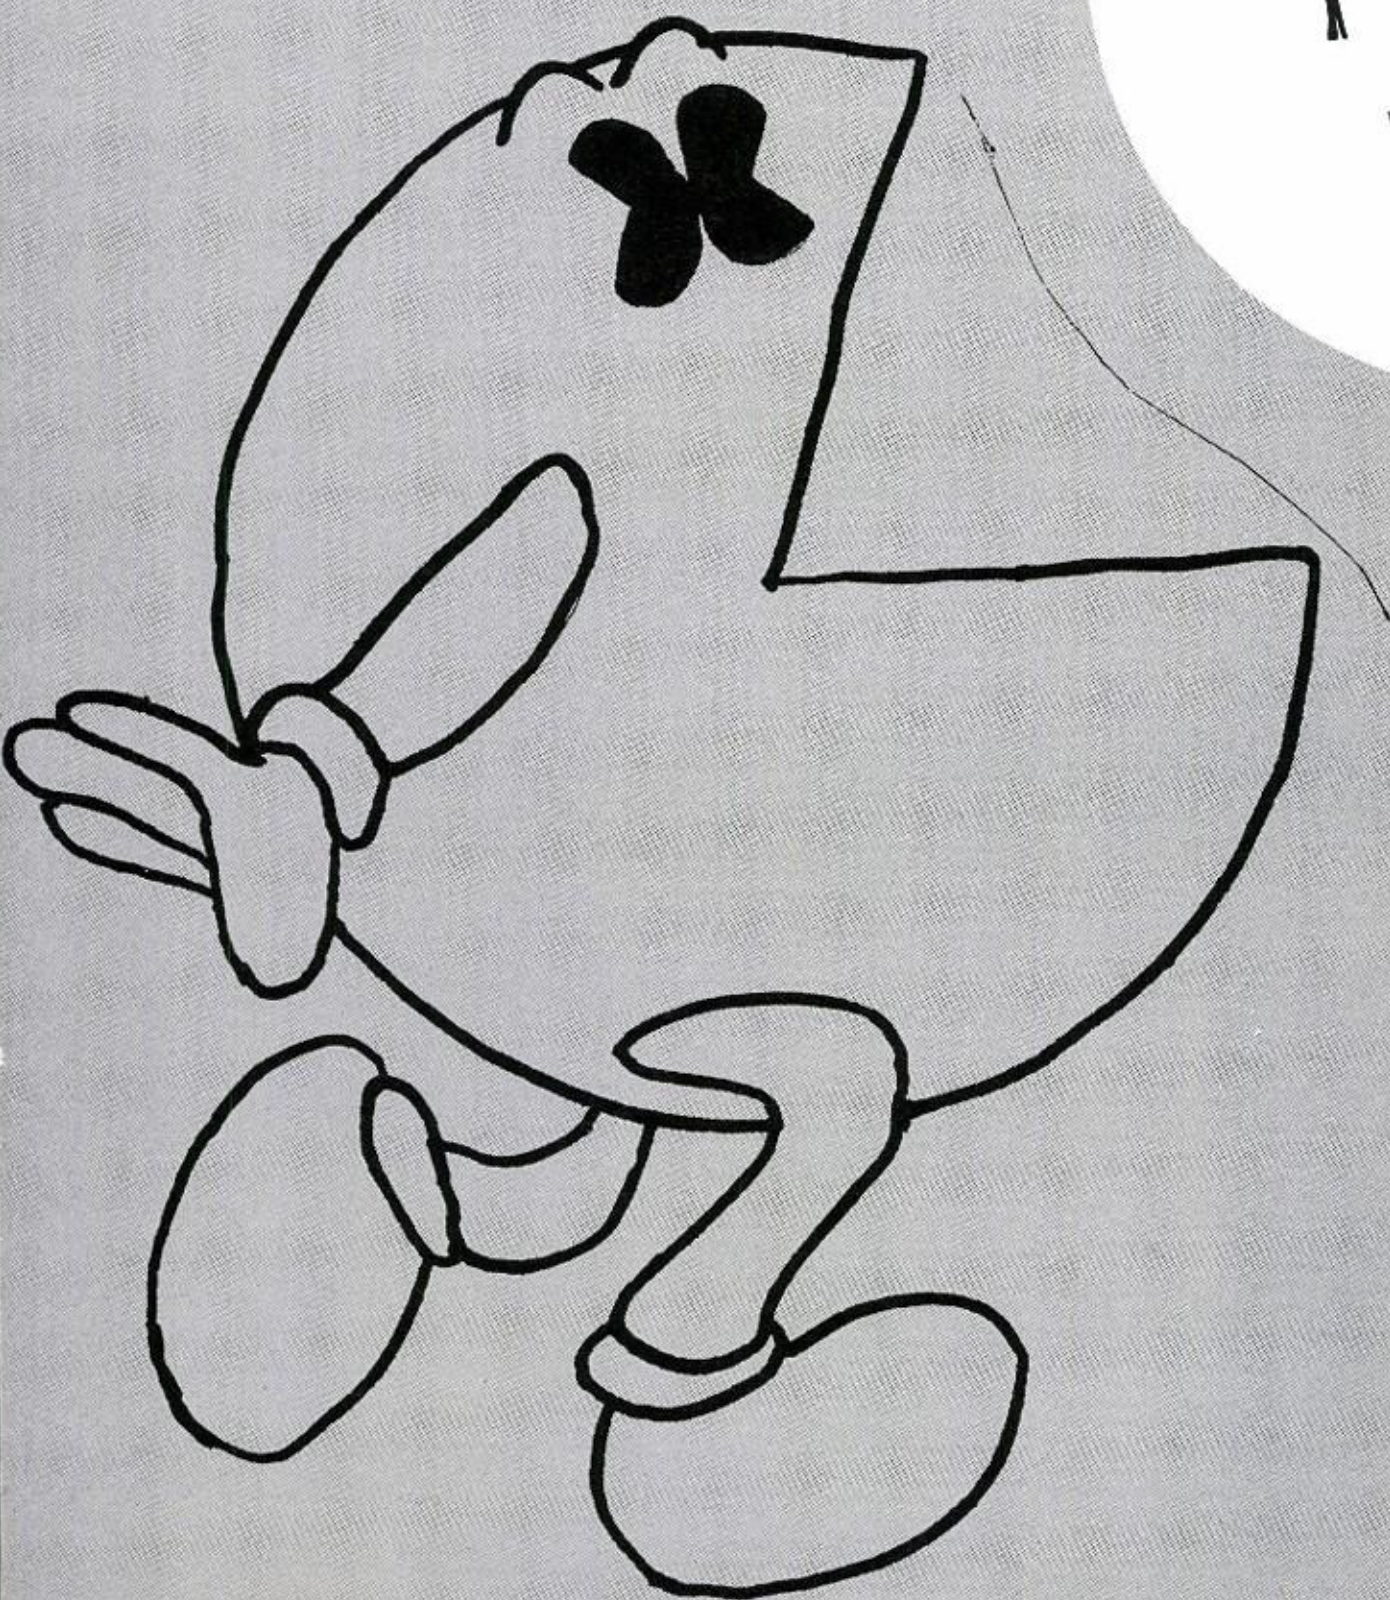

In the Fall of 1981, Water Valley held a Needs Assessment Program. The program's objective was to improve the school's facilities and the curriculum for the students. Resulting from this program, plans were drawn up for a new high school and gymnasium. Students anxiously await the completion of this outstanding achievement.

CHEERLEADERS

Pam Williford

When asked, "Why do you enjoy cheerleading?" Pam Gonzales responded, "Being a cheerleader is an honor as well as a sport. Cheerleading with Pam Williford, Sharie Cavaness, and Tina Beebe was great fun. We had never worked together before, but it was a joy becoming acquainted with each other. Friday nights were so exciting with all the jumping, yelling, and silly actions. Cheerleading required several hours of preparation, but it was time that was valued. Just knowing that you were out there leading yells and supporting your team makes it all worthwhile."

TWIRLERS

Becky Hargraves
Gaynell Glass

"There is nothing like it in the whole world. Twirling with your best friend can be the greatest fun!" stated Becky Hargraves.

"Twirling is an exciting halftime performance where you have a chance to represent your school and entertain the fans. Gaynell and I enjoyed the excitement of twirling even though it required work and a little sweat to 'get it together.' We were always eager to strut out on the field carrying our butterflies right along with us, hoping we wouldn't forget the routine or drop the baton."

We're Behind Ya, Rootin' for Ya . . .

The 1982-83 Drill Team of Water Valley includes; cheerleaders, twirlers, drummers, and members of the drill team. Activities of this group include fund-raising projects, performing routines at half-time during football games and supporting the Wildcats through victory and defeat.

Routines of the 1982 football season were performed to the music of "Flamethrower," "Pac Man Fever," "Physical," and "Cotton-Eyed Joe." The twirlers performed routines to the music of "Celebration," "Off the Wall," and "Eye of the Tiger."

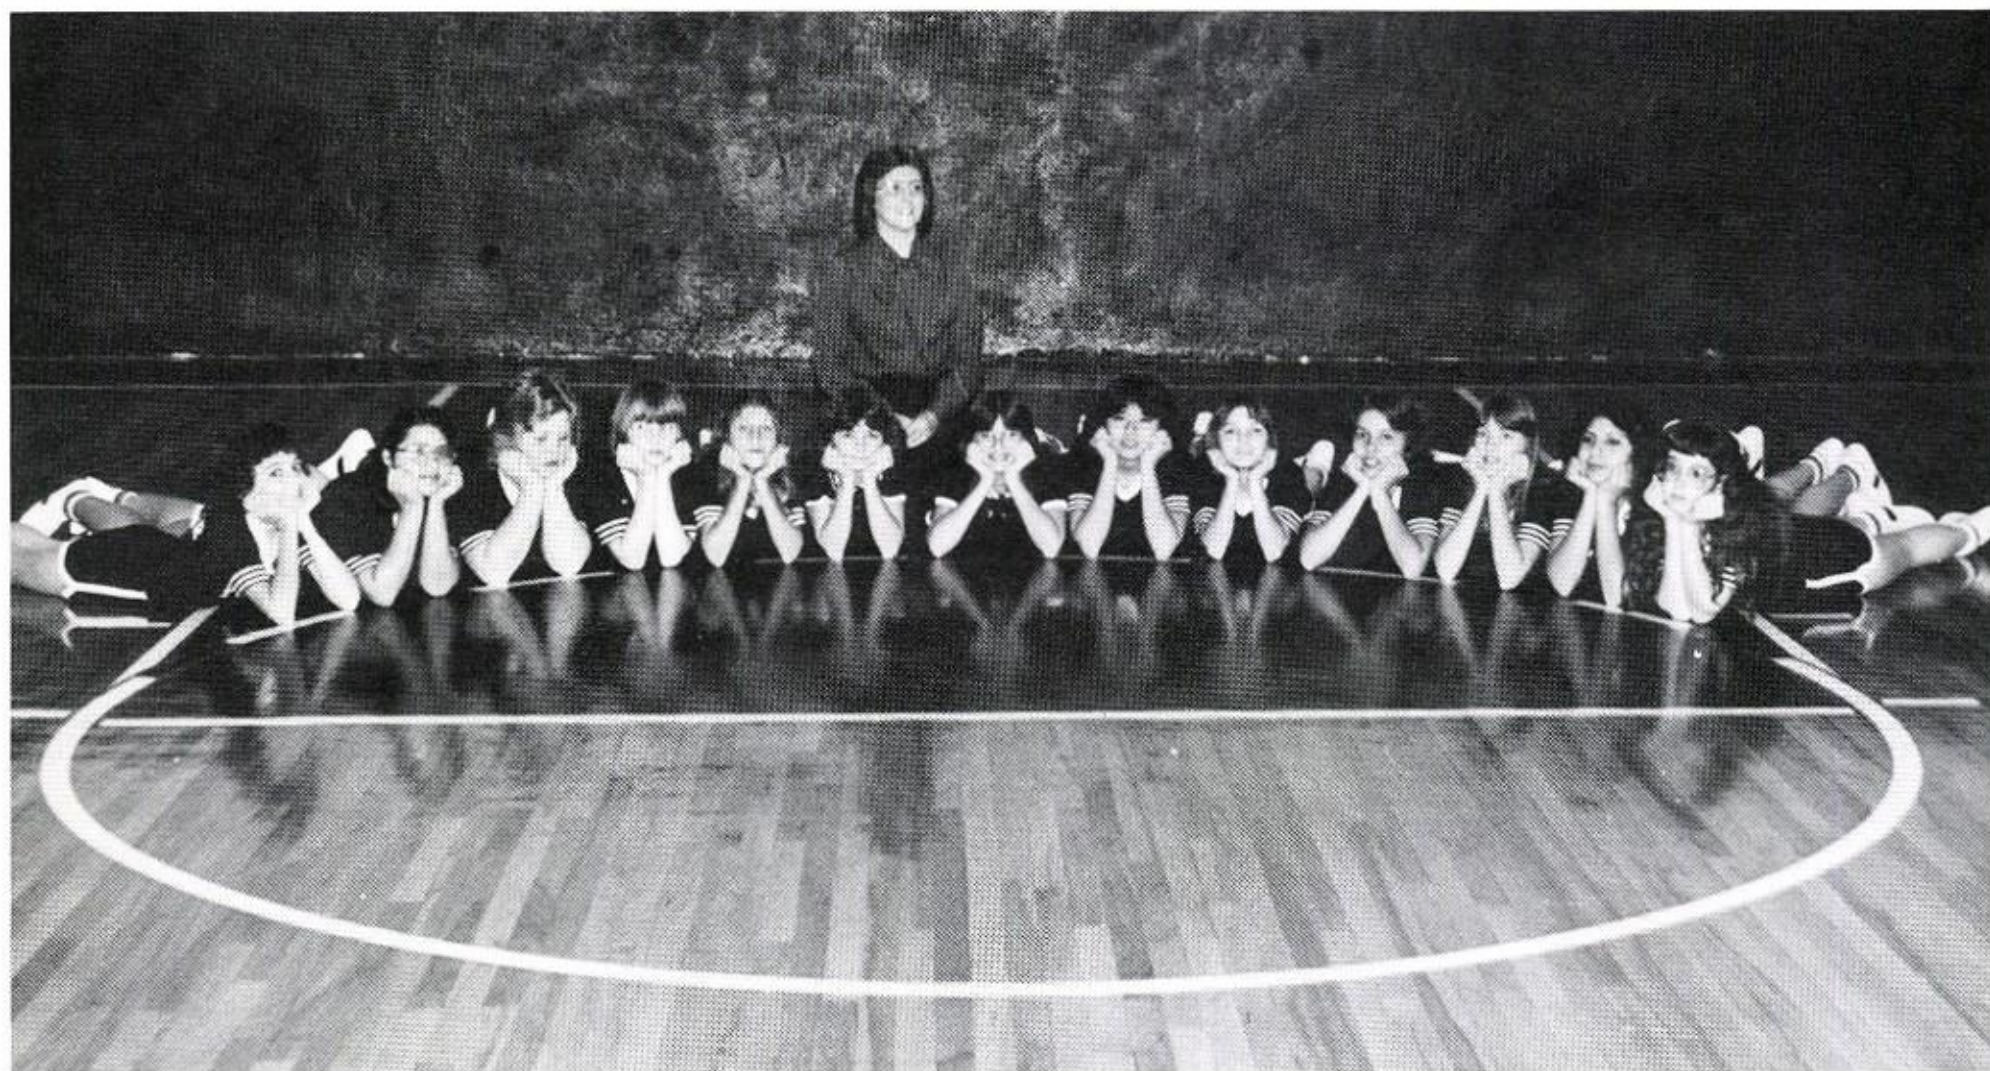

GO, CATS, GO

Painting signs, decorating the gym, and promoting spirit was the drill team's task during the 1982 football season. Long hours were spent learning new yells and routines. Whether cheering or performing, the drill team showed enthusiasm and pride in their school and the Wildcat team.

We would like to express our appreciation to Mrs. Chandler and Ms. King for their assistance in working up the routines.

"The Happy Scarecrow" is a fantasy. It is about a fairy, a witch, and a scarecrow and their search for happiness. What is happiness? Philosophers have struggled with this question for centuries. But sometimes answers are found by simple people with humble aims.

Teased by a witch to prove that there is happiness in the world, a little Fairy awakes a Scarecrow and promises to make him a real man if he can find happiness. The Scarecrow's search evokes a little smile, a little fright, and perhaps a little tear.

THE GAME

I can't expect luck to be coming my way in all of the games that I happen to play. So, if now and then I must forfeit a trick, though badly I need it, I oughtn't to kick, for that is just part of the game.

And whoever played in a game that was fun, that called for small effort, that it might be won? My victory can never — no, never — be sweet unless I have snatched it away from defeat. The fight's the best part of the game!

And who is it wants to be always in luck, relying on Fortune instead of on Pluck? And who is it wants to go smiling through life, unable to say he has weathered the strife — unable to prove he was game?

And though I may win, or be last in the race, may I never cringe at the troubles I face. And when I have finished, may honest men write: "In winning or losing, he fought a good fight, from the start to the end of the game!"

Charles S. Kinnison

Big plans are in store for the 1982-83 Senior class. We have taken each step of school in stride and with pride. Each year has passed by so suddenly, we scarcely had time to enjoy it. But knowing how rapidly time slips away, we have realized that life will not stand still and we intend to live each day to the fullest.

Our school years have taught us how to read and write and other things that books cannot deliver. Every day teaches us to work in harmony, becoming successful at making friends, making money and making good times from which we all can benefit.

We have planned as a class to enjoy our last year in high school, but we also have plans as individuals and we wish for all the best of luck!
